Go abroad with co-op

INFORMATION FOR ALL STUDENTS

Once you've joined co-op, consider an international work term. You'll develop intercultural competencies, earn money while you travel and enhance your employability.

How can UVic Co-op and Career help?

We're your dedicated career development support system—we'll help you connect with employers abroad, plus support you every step of the way with:

- a pre-departure course
- funding opportunities
- 24/7 disaster monitoring and response
- guidance with visa/work permit application
- support during the work term
- a debrief upon your return

Visit uvic.ca/coopandcareer/coopabroad for details.

Where can you work?

We facilitate international co-op opportunities with employers around the globe through these five programs:

Work for Canadian employers

INFORMATION FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

If you've come from outside Canada to study at UVic, gaining work experience here will help you develop intercultural competencies, make valuable connections and enhance your employability.

How can UVic Co-op and Career help?

Join a co-op program and you can apply to co-op positions with Canadian and international employers. You'll need a valid study permit, a Social Insurance Number, and must have been a full-time student for at least 6 of the last 12 months.

You'll receive support as you search for jobs and prepare for the workplace. You can also participate in our workshops on navigating your career in Canada.

Visit uvic.ca/coopandcareer/intl for details.
