

Graduation with Distinction

D. M. Miller

September 30, 2004

The draft response to the Senate Committee on Academic Standards to be considered at the Oct. 4 Faculty Meeting, suggests a significant change to the awarding of degrees with distinction. Fewer students would graduate with distinction and there would be two levels: with high distinction and with distinction.

The following pages show the difference between the current and proposed schemes for the June 2004 graduating class.

Note this proposal is in response to the request from SCAS. It is not a proposal from SCAS.
