Title: Petch Building – Coring of Concrete Floor

Location: Petch Building - Room 145

Description: As part of the Science Building Renewals Project, the Laboratory Suite renewal is underway in the Petch Building, room 145. The coring of the concrete floors within the suite is now required for new drainage systems to be installed. This work will affect the rooms below including Petch 049, 052 & 055.

The contractor will ensure dust is controlled in the area while work is taking place. Vibration testing has previously been completed, significant vibration is not anticipated for this portion of work.

Time frame: Monday, August 14, 2017 – after 5:00 p.m.
