Join us for UMC 2017 at the Mary Winspear Centre, located in the picturesque waterfront community of Sidney, British Columbia.

What to expect: UMC 2017 is designed for higher educational administrators who wish to enhance their leadership skills and develop strategies for institutional success. It will be structured around a model of core and adaptive leadership competencies and will consider the principles and processes that guide decision-making in key topic areas and explore these topics through a range of activities including presentations, case studies, simulations, and discussion groups.

Audience
Department Heads, Associate Deans, Directors, Managers, and Senior Executive Assistants

Instructional Team

Dr. Sheila Brown, President Emerita, Mount Saint Vincent University (Course Director)

Mr. Denis Berube, former Assistant Vice-President (Administration and Ancillaries), Simon Fraser University

Ms. Sheila Devine, Education and Policy Officer, Office of the General Counsel, Memorial University of Newfoundland

Mr. Neal Gold, Professor Emeritus, former Provost and Dean of Law, University of Windsor

Key Topic Areas

Significant change is a constant of the post-secondary environment. Social, economic, governmental policy, and technological trends directly affect our institutions. The following topics will be explored through a range of real-world Canadian examples led by a team with extensive knowledge of and experience in university leadership and management:

- Leadership concepts, styles, problem-solving and team-building
- Budgeting and Financial Models
- Governance and Strategic Planning

Fees
$3,500 CDN (includes tuition, materials & some meals)
