

FACULTY OF HUMAN AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT AWARD FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

The Human and Social Development Award for Community Service will be offered biennially, with up to two awards presented each time.

PURPOSE

The Award has been established to recognize and encourage external community service from within the Faculty of Human and Social Development.

ADMINISTRATION

The composition of the HSD Community Service Awards Committee is outlined in the Community Service Award Terms of Reference and will consist of faculty, staff or members of the Dean's Advisory Council as selected by the Dean or Associate Dean of the Faculty.

AWARD

- Each award winner will receive an honorarium of $500 to be designated to a scholarship fund of the winner's choice, taken as professional development support, received as a salary supplement or provided to a designated charity.
- Award winners' names will be inscribed on a plaque and portrait photographs of award winners will be located within the main entrance A-wing stairwell of the HSD Building.
- Normally, award winners will be announced by April 1 with a presentation ceremony planned for early May.

ELIGIBILITY

- Award nominees may include any faculty (regular and sessional) and staff (CUPE, PEA and term appointments) within the Faculty of Human and Social Development.

CRITERIA

Community service will be judged in two complementary areas, both of which reflect the strengths of the Faculty of Human and Social Development.

- Community engagement and contributions to the community at large demonstrating active citizenship and commitment.
- Relevance to the mission of HSD which focuses on the health and social well-being of children, families and communities.

NOMINATION PROCEDURES

- Guidelines and terms of reference are available online at:
www.hsd.uvic.ca/policies/index.php
- The closing date for nominations is February 1 in the odd numbered years.
