

Latin 102: Introductory Latin II

Professor Mark Nugent

CRN 21935

Spring 2024

TWF 10:30-11:20 a.m.

Latin 102 is the second instalment in the Classical Latin sequence. The course introduces the intermediate grammar and vocabulary that you will need to read Latin, and features readings inspired by Latin literature.

Students will learn:

- a Latin vocabulary of about 500 words
- intermediate Latin grammar
- intermediate Latin reading skills
- historical and cultural contexts of Latin

Prerequisite: Latin 101, or permission of the department.
