The course will explore two well-preserved ancient cities and their environs in an effort to determine what they reveal about urban life in Roman Italy. Attention is given to urban planning and infrastructure, domestic architecture, the messages of graffiti, commercial and industrial life, and the daily activities of the cities’ inhabitants.