Philosophy 305 A (CRN 12568)
Medieval Philosophy from the 5th to the 12th Century CE

This course begins with a brief presentation of the philosophies of Plato, Aristotle and Plotinus insofar as these were influential on medieval philosophical thought. It then considers major thinkers in the Christian traditions from the 5th to the 12th century CE. If time permits, major Islamic philosophers within that time period and whose speculations were influential on later medieval Christian thought will also be considered.

Formal Course Requirements and Grading Procedures

Two mid-terms and a final examination. The mid-term examinations are fifty minutes long and the final examination is three hours in length. The mid-term examinations are each worth 20% of the course grade; the final examination is worth 60%. Students who have taken (and received a grade for) both mid-term examinations have the option of having the final examination count for 100% of their course grade. The mid-term examinations cover only the material that has not been tested before in the semester; the final examination is cumulative and covers all of the material dealt with in the course. Students are encouraged to discuss their mid-term examination with the instructor.

Significant dates:
- Mid-term examination #1: app. October 15
- Mid-term examination #2: app. November 8
- Final examination: scheduled by the university

Exceptions from course requirements, adjustments for taking examinations at set examination dates, etc. will only be made in accordance with UVic regulations as published in the Calendar. It is the responsibility of the students to acquaint themselves this fact and the relevant dates. The mid-term examinations will be returned as soon as they are graded. Final examinations are the property of the University and will not be returned. They are available for viewing at the Records Office at a time designated by the University.

Grading:
Grades will be assigned on a percentile basis with letter grade equivalents as follows: F=0-49; D=50-59; C=60-64; C+=65-69; B-=70-72; B=73-76; B+=77-79; A-=80-84; A=85-89; A+=90-
100. The criteria for assigning grades may be found in the University Calendar. Students are encouraged to discuss their examinations with the instructor.

Inappropriate behaviour and contraventions of academic integrity

Inappropriate behaviour and violations of standards of academic integrity as defined in the University Calendar will be dealt with in accordance with University Regulations.

Tentative Outline of Lectures

It is estimated that each section will take approximately one to two weeks. However, this may vary, depending on class discussion and the familiarity of students with relevant philosophical material from other courses in the history of philosophy.
