Are you preparing for an academic career in higher education? Want to build your teaching portfolio with practical experience, strategies, and skills that will give you an edge in the competitive post-secondary teaching market? Then enroll in the LEARNING AND TEACHING IN HIGHER EDUCATION (LATHE) CERTIFICATE.

This two-year graduate credit program is guided by recent research in the psychology of learning and instruction that can be earned in conjunction with your degree program. On-line registration is open now for September 2012.

Earn this Graduate Certificate along with your degree!

For more details contact:
Stacey Brownell eplsgrad@uvic.ca
250-721-7883

University of Victoria | Educational Psychology & Leadership Studies
University of Victoria | Learning & Teaching Centre