Important Information & Instructions

Students seeking to withdraw from a course before the final drop deadline should use the online registration system. Students who drop a course because of accident, illness or affliction may appeal for a reduction in fees for the course(s) dropped by submitting an "Appeal for Fee Reduction to the Fee Reduction Appeal Committee (FRAC) (see www.uvic.ca/vpfo/accounting/assets/docs/tuition/Appeal-fee-reduction-form.pdf).

Important information regarding Undergraduate Academic Concession Options and Procedures can be found at <http://www.uvic.ca/registrar/students/policies/appeals/rac-late.php> Please review this information.

Complete this form in full. You must provide supporting documentation and/or the Professional's Statement in Support of Request for Academic Concession (see pages 3 and 4). Return the completed form to the Office of the Registrar.

The University of Victoria recognizes that students submitting a Request for Academic Concession are dealing with exceptional circumstances. Guidance and support is recommended prior to registering for future courses. Students should consult with an academic advisor, counsellor, disability advisor, or health care provider, as appropriate. Note that decisions to defer or withdraw from courses may have implications for financial aid. Check with Student Awards and Financial Aid.

This request and supporting documentation are retained in a restricted-access confidential student file.
