

University of Victoria

GRADUATE COLLOQUIUM

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

And Now For Something Completely Different:
Thinking Critically About
Scholarship's Institutional
Setting

Dr. Russell T. McCutcheon

University Research Professor and Department Chair
Department of Religious Studies, College of Arts and Science
University of Alabama

Monday, October 26th, 2020

11:30 am – 12:30 pm

Online – via Zoom

(zoom meeting link on the website)

www.uvic.ca/socialsciences/anthropology/research/colloquium/index.php

Russell McCutcheon is University Research Professor and Chair of the Department of Religious Studies at the University of Alabama; earning degrees at Queen's University and then his Ph.D. at the University Toronto (1995), he has spent his career working in U.S. public universities (in Tennessee, Missouri, and Alabama). Although teaching a variety of topics, including offering the undergraduate intro course regularly, his research revolves around the history of the study of religion and politics of classification, including uses for the category religion itself.

EVERYONE WELCOME

www.uvic.ca/socialsciences/anthropology/undergraduate/colloquium/index.php