

University of Victoria

GRADUATE COLLOQUIUM

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

The Memory of Slavery and the Politics of Remembering in the Contemporary Anglophone Caribbean

Winston F. Phulgence
Sir Arthur Lewis Community College

Monday, January 17th 2022
11:30 am – 12:50 pm
Online – via Zoom

Zoom meeting link and details on the website

www.uvic.ca/socialsciences/anthropology/research/colloquium/index.php

In the Anglophone Caribbean most of the population is of African descent. These are the descendants of enslaved Africans who worked on plantations for centuries before Emancipation. The history of this region and what is remembered of this period is a major factor in identity creation. This presentation will explore how nation-states use the memory of slavery in the post-colonial period to create national identities, through the monuments created for commemoration.

EVERYONE WELCOME

www.uvic.ca/socialsciences/anthropology/research/colloquium/index.php