

CO-OP + CAREER

Law Co-op

UVic is home to the only common law co-op program in Canada outside Quebec.

As a law co-op student, you can alternate study terms with exciting full-time paid legal work in Victoria, across Canada or abroad. You'll complete at least two co-op work terms during your law degree.

University
of Victoria

Law co-op students Kirsty Broadhead (left) and Adrienne Macmillan (right) worked for UVic's Indigenous Law Research Unit to create a Secwepemc Law casebook.

Law Co-op

Why join Law Co-op?

- + Supplement your classroom learning with practical work experience in the field of law
- + Explore career options by working for a variety of legal employers
- + Meet legal professionals and expand your network of contacts
- + Graduate with a great résumé, relevant work experience and a strong repertoire of practical legal skills and knowledge

Where you could work

UVic law co-op students work for a diverse range of legal employers in government, private law firms, public interest organizations, unions and crown corporations across Canada and abroad, including:

- + BC Government and Service Employees' Union, Burnaby
- + BC Ministry of Justice, Victoria
- + Chandler MHM Limited, Bangkok
- + Department of Justice Canada, Vancouver
- + Dwyer Tax Lawyers, Victoria

- + Environment Canada, Ottawa
- + Hunter Litigation Chambers, Vancouver
- + Law Society of Nunavut, Iqaluit
- + Ontario Securities Commission, Toronto
- + Together Against Poverty Society, Victoria
- + Yukon Department of Justice, Whitehorse
- + Woodward & Company, Victoria

How to apply

First-year UVic law students are eligible for admission to co-op. To apply, please contact the Law Co-op office.

Learn more about co-op and how it can help you launch your career!

Law Co-op | lawcoop@uvic.ca | 250-721-8195 | Fraser 140 | uvic.ca/lawcoop

University of Victoria