The Faculty of Education will host Heart Earth: a series of conversations focusing on living in the world in sustainable ways.

Please join us for Heart Earth! Light refreshments served!

The Small and Beautiful within the Big and Beautiful

Wed. Feb. 24, 2:00 – 3:30 p.m. MAC D287

The Human Ecosystem

Lee Beavington
Kwantlen Polytechnic University; Simon Fraser University

Lee Beavington is an author, photographer, and instructor for Kwantlen Polytechnic University’s Amazon Field School, and he teaches Ecology, Genetics, and Advanced Cell and Molecular Biology. His interdisciplinary doctoral research at Simon Fraser University explores wonder in science education, transformative learning, and poetic inquiry. Find Lee reflecting in the forest and always following the river.

Why I Do What I Do and What I Do

David Friend
Founder and Executive Director, Growing Young Farmers Society, Vancouver Island

Dave (a.k.a. Mr. Organic) is a past certified organic grower. He is the founder and executive director of Growing Young Farmers Society and the creator of the Growing Young Farmers School program. Within the program, and during their normal school week, hundreds of students are now growing health-friendly organic food.

Eco Nutrition

Rhona McAdam
Poet, Food Writer, and Holistic Nutritionist; Victoria

Rhona McAdam is a Victoria-based writer and holistic nutritionist with a consulting practice, Go Local Nutrition, based at Haliburton Community Organic Farm. Author of six poetry collections and many articles on food, nutrition, and agriculture, Rhona’s urban agriculture manifesto, Digging the City, was published in 2012.

[Light refreshments courtesy of Planet Organic. Green gifts for panelists courtesy of Le Coteau Nursery.]