RE: Impact of Canada Post labour disruption on Campus Mail delivery

Although negotiations are continuing between Canada Post and the Canadian Union of Postal Workers (CUPW), CUPW has given Canada Post strike notice. We have been advised that Victoria postal workers have continued their strike as of 8am this morning.

Delivery of internal mail will not be affected by any job action, however if you have mail that needs to get to a destination in a timely manner, we would suggest using a courier.

For more up to date information, please consult the Canada Post website: www.canadapost.ca/update

Questions or concerns regarding this memo can be directed to Megan Roberts, Supervisor, Distribution Services, at Local 8986 or zroberts@uvic.ca.

Thank you for your co-operation.
