UN GLOBAL COMPACT: THE MANAGEMENT MODEL

TO COMPLETE THE SIGNATORY LEADERSHIP PROCESS:
- Commits to the Global Compact & its 10 principles.
- Commits to engaging in partnerships to advance broad UN goals.
- Commits to annual submission of the Communication on Progress (COP).

REQUIRED ACTIONS FOR THE LETTER OF COMMITMENT:
1. Contains an official company letterhead.
2. Addresses to the UN Secretary-General.
3. Includes commitment to the 10 principles, engaging in partnerships.
4. Signed by chief executive or equivalent.
5. Scanned & available for upload before completing the online form.

GETTING STARTED:
- Use a Ishikawa (or a spreadsheet) to capture and consolidate the metric and impact measurements identified in the above & define steps.
- Employing a ‘bottom up’ approach to gather data may be beneficial for some companies.
- Companies with operations in multiple countries should consider centralizing to enable measurement and analysis of gross impacts.

MEASURE:
- Action: measures & monitors impacts & progress towards goals
- Over time, the company:
  - May break down metrics as a way to improve its ability to capture data & gain more visibility & progress towards goals.
  - May employ a more advanced and sophisticated tool to capture data.

COMMUNICATE:
- Action: communicates progress & strategies & engages with stakeholders for continuous improvement

COMMUNICATION ON PROGRESS:
Here, the company documents for shareholders & other stakeholders its impacts & progress, toward integrating the Global Compact principles into its management practices through its COP

STAKEHOLDER DIALOGUE:
Here, the company engages in ongoing dialogue with stakeholders to solicit feedback on performance & get input on future directions & priorities.

This model has adopted the shape of a circle to suggest that progress requires an iterative & ongoing process.
