

Danielle Shin Registered Nurse, Postdoctoral Fellow at Brigham and Women's Hospital

Hwayeon Danielle Shin is a Registered Nurse and postdoctoral research fellow at Brigham and Women's Hospital, supported by a CIHR Postdoctoral Fellowship Award. She is also an incoming assistant professor at the School of Nursing, Dalhousie University. Danielle is a health services researcher whose work focuses on mental health, implementation science, and digital health. She earned her PhD in Health Services Research from the University of Toronto. Her research explores the use of digital interventions to support evidence-based clinical practice and evaluates their implementation in real-world settings. Danielle also uses an integrated knowledge translation (iKT) approach, collaborating with diverse knowledge users and partners throughout the research process.

Gillian Strudwick Registered Nurse, Chief Clinical Informatics Office, Senior Scientist, and Scientific Director at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health

Gillian Strudwick is a Registered Nurse, holding the positions of Chief Clinical Informatics Officer, Senior Scientist and Scientific Director at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health. She is also an Associate Professor (status) at the Institute of Health Policy, Management and Evaluation at the University of Toronto. Dr. Strudwick serves as a board member for AMS Healthcare, Thunder Bay Regional Health Research Institute, and the Village Family Health Team. She is a Fellow of the American Medical Informatics Association, the American College of Medical Informatics, the International Academy of Health Sciences for Informatics and a Fellow of the Canadian Academy of Nursing.