

Centred in Blackness, Centred in Joy: An Intergenerational Open Mic for Black-Identified Relatives

We invite Black-identified relatives to join us for this evening of (re)connection and (re)calibration as part of honouring Black histories and futurities beyond February and celebrating Social Work Month. This intergenerational open mic is an opportunity to give thanks for our survival and the futures we are creating through our resistance, love and creativity. Bring your quotes, your poems, your Ancestors, your trailblazers that you want to pay homage to in these times.

Thursday, March 12th
6:00pm - 7:30pm
In person at UVic Campus
HSD Building, B347
or online via Zoom

Co-hosted by Dr. Anna Ortega-Williams and Dr. V.C. Rhonda Hackett

Dr. Anna Ortega-Williams
Associate Professor
Silberman School of Social Work
Hunter College, CUNY

Dr. V.C. Rhonda Hackett
Associate Professor
School of Social Work
University of Victoria

To attend in-person, please RSVP
to healingsocialharms@gmail.com

To attend online, click here for zoom registration.

Centred in Blackness, Centred in Joy is part of the UVic School of Social Work Black
Furutures 2026 Events

