

Evidence-Based Practice Change: Taking a Knowledge-as-Action Approach

September 27 (12 – 1 pm)

Royal Jubilee Hospital, Patient Care Centre Room S150
& via webinar

Gweneth Doane is a Professor in the School of Nursing at the University of Victoria. She has an interdisciplinary background and several years experience as a health practitioner (as both a nurse and a psychologist). Using examples from knowledge translation research projects that directly integrated research, education and professional practice, she will discuss insights gained about the process of practice change in health care.

Co-hosted by the UVic School of Nursing and Island Health Research.
