

Andrew Rippin Memorial Scholarship

One or more scholarships are awarded to academically outstanding undergraduate students who are focusing on the study of religion and are enrolled in a program offered by the Faculty of Humanities.

We actively encourage nominations of candidates from groups with historical and/or current barriers to equity, including, but not limited to:

- First Nations, Métis and Inuit peoples, and all other Indigenous peoples;
- members of groups that commonly experience discrimination due to race, ethnicity, ancestry, colour, religion and/or spiritual beliefs, or place of origin;
- persons with a visible and/or invisible disability;
- women; and
- persons of marginalized sexual orientations, gender identities, and gender expressions.

The adjudication committee must consider equity and diversity when making its deliberations. All disclosures to the committee are confidential.

ELIGIBILITY

All Humanities majors, minors or double majors (one has to be in the Humanities) are eligible. Students must be taking Humanities courses related to the study of religion.

CRITERIA

Applications must include:

- 1) unofficial transcript;
- 2) a statement of no more than 500 words describing the student's particular interest in the study of religion and identifying relevant courses they have taken and are taking in the field; and
- 3) 2 letters of support from instructors familiar with the student's academic work in the study of religion

Please ensure that your application includes all of the items

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS

Applications will be assessed by the Humanities Advisory Committee to the Associate Dean Academic.

The complete application must be submitted to humsassistant@uvic.ca by MAY 15. If the deadline falls on a weekend, the application is due the following Monday.
