Margaret and Richard Beck
Student Research Travel Award

One award of up to $6,000 is given to an undergraduate or graduate student in Humanities, Social Sciences or Fine Arts to travel to Iceland for the purpose of research or course work related to Icelandic language and literature. Preference will be given to applicants who have already completed a course or are undertaking a significant research project that is related to Icelandic language and literature. If no eligible applicants apply from Humanities, Social Sciences or Fine Arts, the award may be given to an undergraduate or graduate student in any faculty.

CRITERIA
Applications must include:

- a curriculum vitae
- unofficial transcripts
- a statement of no more than 500 words describing the course(s) or research to be pursued in Iceland and their value to the student’s program as well as the student’s prior course in or research related to Icelandic language and literature
- a letter of support from the appropriate instructor or supervisor of the student addressing the quality of the proposed research or the value and nature of the coursework to be undertaken

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS
Applications must be submitted to the Humanities Associate Dean Academic by December 15. In the case of an undergraduate award, selection will be made by the Senate Committee on Awards upon the recommendation of the Associate Dean Academic of Humanities. In the case of a graduate award, selection will be made by the Graduate Awards Committee upon the recommendation of the Associate Dean Research of Humanities. If the deadline falls on a weekend, the application is due the following Monday. For additional information, please contact the Faculty of Humanities, Dean's Office at 250-472-4677 or humsassistant@uvic.ca.
