The Tour de France (course in English) — ONLINE DELIVERY

Summer 2020 — University of Victoria — 4 WEEKS

Instructor

Émile Fromet de Rosnay  CLE 252  derosnay@uvic.ca

Instagram for the course: @tdf325
Twitter for the course: @emilederosnay

Note that the instructor will be posting information on Instagram and Twitter, using the hashtag #tdf325. Students don’t need to follow the instructor, but Instagram and twitter are a useful way to convey information, and many of the key players in the Tour such as journalists, athletes and the organizer, use these social media.

Description

This course on the Tour de France will take place in June-July 2020, from June 22nd to July 25th (FINAL PAPER due August 1st), concurrently with the Tour (note the Tour might not happen this year), and will encompass the following aspects:

- history of the tour, right to the present day
- representations of the Tour in literature, cinema, the press, intellectual, political, social life
- cultural aspects: cycling culture, fan culture; reflection of culture in general
- globalization of the Tour: compared with the Olympics and other mega sporting/cultural events; the Tour as globalization
- ethical debates about sport: doping, commercialism, institutionalization, gender of the Tour
FRAN 325A

- Case studies, such as a study of the 2012 USADA documents and a study of athletes', organizations', press and public reactions to it, and the Team Sky scandals

This course is delivered and assessed completely online.

Prerequisites

Your curiosity and resourcefulness.

Required reading/textbooks

Readings will be provided on the course website. In addition, students will develop their own reading lists for the research project. All readings can be found at the library and online.

Course objectives

At the end of the course, the student will have:

- The capacity for analysis and critical reflection
- Developed research skills
- Written and engaged with course concepts through online discussion
- Acquired critical online media skills

Teaching Methods

- Short lecture (podcasts), video/film viewing, and online group work
- Independent research work
- Online tools for group discussion
- Critical analysis of texts, films and other discourse
- Students can participate with blogs, podcasts, forum discussions, wikis, and online tools
- Virtual office hours
FRAN 325A

Course Evaluation

1. Forums, questionnaires and other assignments: 50%
2. Research project, proposal + final (10% + 40%): 50% (due on August 1)

Grading

Please note that professor reserve the right to assign an N to any student that has failed to complete all the work before the final exam. Class participation is essential for success in the course. In the case of acceptable absences, students need to keep up to date with what has happened in class by consulting with the professor and by referring to course notes taken by other students.

90+, 85-89, 80-84: exceptional, outstanding and excellent performance. Normally achieved by a minority of students. These grades indicate a student who is self-initiating, exceeds expectation and has an insightful grasp of the subject matter.

75-79, 70-74, 65-69: Very good, good and solid performance. Normally achieved by the largest number of students. These grades indicate a good grasp of the subject matter or excellent grasp in one area balanced with satisfactory grasp in the other area.

60-64, 55-59: satisfactory, or minimally satisfactory. These grades indicate a satisfactory performance and knowledge of the subject matter.

50-54: marginal performance. A student receiving this grade demonstrated a superficial grasp of the subject matter.

Important Reminder

Plagiarism is a serious offense. Any student caught for plagiarism can receive a ZERO for the given work AND for the course as a whole. Please consult the undergraduate calendar for policies concerning plagiarism: Policy on Academic Integrity p. 33-34.