

DEPARTMENT OF GREEK AND ROMAN STUDIES

Sessional Lecturer Position January-April 2024

ONLINE COURSE JANUARY 2024 The Department of Greek and Roman Studies invites applications for a Sessional Lecturer position to teach GRS 204: The Ancient World on Film ONLINE in the spring semester, beginning January 8, 2024. The course is scheduled on Monday and Thursday from 11.30 a.m.-12.50 p.m. PST. The successful applicant will have teaching experience either in the area of film and the ancient Greek and Roman worlds or reception studies, and should hold a PhD. This popular and well-enrolled course will have significant Teaching Assistant support. The Department also has resources such as syllabi and a selection of licensed films available.

The University Calendar provides a description for this course. Please send (by e-mail) a letter expressing interest in the position. Include evidence of innovative teaching and experience, a complete CV, and a teaching reference to: Ingrid Holmberg, Chair, Department of Greek and Roman Studies (ingrid@uvic.ca) before Tuesday, December 19, 2023. A decision should be made quickly.

These appointments are within CUPE, local 4163 (Component 3), Sessional Lecturers certification. The University is committed to upholding the values of equity, diversity, and inclusion in our living, learning and work environments. In pursuit of our values, we seek members who will work respectfully and constructively with differences and across levels of power. We actively encourage applications from members of groups experiencing barriers to equity. The University's full equity statement is located at: www.uvic.ca/equitystatement. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.