Learn to read Ancient Greek and Latin!

The Department of Greek and Roman Studies is offering introductory language classes in Fall 2018. You can also join the GRS Epigraphy Club and test your Greek and Latin knowledge! No pre-requisites or experience required.

Lessons in liberty … ancient Greece produced ideas that have subsequently informed the most significant moments in western political history. Illustration by Romy Blumel for the Saturday Review

What you can learn and use:

- learn the Greek or Latin alphabet;
- learn how to pronounce Attic Greek (the Greek of Classical Athens), or Classical Latin;
- gain an understanding of basic Greek or Latin grammar;
- acquire a basic vocabulary of about 170 Greek words and 300 Latin words;
- ability to read a paragraph of simple Greek or Latin prose;
- introduced to the historical and cultural contexts of Greek or Latin;
- decipher Greek and Latin inscriptions!

GREEK 101: MTWR 2:30-3:20

LATIN 101 A01: TWF 10:30-11:20
LATIN 101 A02: TWF 11:30-12:20
LATIN 101 A03: TWF 1:30-2:20