

GRS 102: Discovering the Ancient Romans

Spring 2026 TWF 1:30-2:20 pm

Professor Alejandro Sinner

An introduction to the literature, history, art and archaeology of ancient Rome, from its foundations through the Empire in thematic blocks. This class has been designed for students with little or no previous study of Roman civilization or history.

Learning Outcomes:

- ✓ you will identify and describe the broad outlines of Roman history
- ✓ Through examining/encountering images and reading primary sources, you will analyze core elements of Roman civilization
- ✓ Using literary, archaeological, and historical evidence, you will gain a better comprehension of a major ancient culture.

No prerequisites.

University of Victoria
Greek & Roman
Studies