LATI 301 Vergil
MR 11:30-1:00 (Fall 2019)
Professor: Cedric Littlewood

Reading the twelfth book of Virgil’s Aeneid in the original Latin.

Students will learn:

- improved Latin reading and linguistic skills
- knowledge of a particular epic poet and poem, of the generic concerns and metre of Roman epic, and of the role of literature as a document of culture more broadly.
- improved writing and research skills (developed through essay assignment)
- improved oral communication skills (developed through class presentation)
