Greek and Roman Mythology
GRS 200 (21685): Professor L.M. Bowman
Spring 2021
M-R 10:00-11:20 a.m.

What were the Greek and Roman myths? Who told them and why? How and why did they change over time? And why do we still care? This course will assist students to examine and develop an informed response to these questions, through study of the Greek and Roman myths, the divinities and heroes who feature in them, and the cultural and historical context of their original tellings.

By the end of the course, students will
❖ be familiar with the most widespread myths of the Greeks and Romans
❖ be able to analyze these myths in their original historical and cultural contexts
❖ be able to describe and analyze some of their retellings in contemporary culture
❖ improve their writing skills

No Prerequisites.