(Spring 2019 Term)

Course description:

This course (equivalent to SPAN 250A and 250B) is designed to give you a thorough review of the grammatical concepts presented in Spanish 100A, 100B, and 149, and to expand them to a degree appropriate to the intermediate level. You will have practice with composition, translation and conversation. Time will also be dedicated for activities related to Spanish and Latin American history and culture (music, art, literature, and film, etc.). This course involves two-hour classes three times a week.

At the end of Spanish 249, you will be prepared to continue to third year level, Spanish 350A.

You will also be eligible for the Study Abroad Program in Alcalá, Spain in the subsequent Fall term.

Proposed evaluation:

Weekly evaluations (10 x 10%)	100%
-------------------------------	------

Each evaluation will include an oral and written component. Participation in class will also be taken into consideration for each week's grade.
