Lola López Mondéjar is a well-known Spanish writer, psychoanalyst, and literary critic. She is the author of numerous essays that explore the relationship between subjectivity, creativity, and literature, such as Invulnerables e invertebrados: Mutaciones antropológicas del sujeto contemporáneo (2022); seven novels, including Cada noche, cada noche (2016), which re-writes Lolita's story from a personal perspective; and short fiction collections. She is a commentator for El País, and a contributor to several literary magazines. She has been teaching creative writing for over two decades and has a long career as a feminist activist.
