

European Union Centre of Excellence Lecture Series

Eurozone Morality Tales

Beware Greeks without neckties seeking to avoid debts and / or Germans trying to discipline others onto straight and narrow path. A flexible discussion of the Eurozone's present soap opera, its intricate pasts, and its possible futures.

Dr. George W. Ross

ad personam Chaire Jean Monnet, CEUE, Science Politique, Université de Montréal

3pm-4:30pm, Friday April 24 2015

David Strong Building, Room C130

George Ross was educated at Williams College, Sciences-Po Paris, the London School of Economics, and Harvard University, where he earned a PhD in political sociology. He is Hillquit Professor emeritus at Brandeis University, Faculty Associate at the Minda de Gunzburg Center for European Studies at Harvard, and presently ad personam Chaire Jean Monnet and visiting professor of political science at the University of Montreal, resident at the McGill Center for Excellence on the European Union.

He is an officer of the French Ordre des Palmes Academiques. Among his recent books are The European Union and its Crises seen through the Eyes of the Brussels Elite (2011); What's Left of the Left? Center-Lefts in a Globalizing World, edited with James Cronin et James Shoch (2011); Euros and Europeans: Monetary Integration and the European Model of Society, with Andrew Martin (2004), and Jacques Delors and European Integration (1994).

University of Victoria European Studies

University
of Victoria Political Science