

MEDIEVAL STUDIES

Newsletter and upcoming courses

The medieval era experienced its share of devastating pandemics. Yet in the wake of ravaging disease people sought refuge in the stories, songs, rituals, monuments, and institutions that made up the rich variety of their lives. Some of the most creative acts and innovative thinking took place during such moments, and you are invited to immerse yourself in past cultures in which we might — who knows? — find resources to endure the present. This year we are offering another exciting array of courses, and though their modes of delivery will vary in response to Covid-19, our instructors will be as engaged as ever to support your education. Come discover medieval worlds in MEDI 100 and 303. Read German epics in MEDI 360, and Italian travel writing in MEDI 304. Learn all about medieval manuscripts in MEDI 452. Join a seminar on pilgrimages in MEDI 401. And take a journey with us to an enchanting foreign destination for next summer's field school (MEDI 459, May 2021)!

MEDIEVAL STUDIES FIELD SCHOOL

Summer 2021

Join us on an academic adventure next summer!

The Medieval Studies Program is pleased to offer a new field school in May-June 2021, an intensive summer course in an exciting foreign destination. Our focus for the next year is pilgrimage in medieval Europe. Plans are shaping up for this rare opportunity to study medieval religious culture "in the field."
