Course Description & Intended Learning Outcomes

From the early 6th century BCE to the 2nd century AD, a succession of philosophers lay the groundwork for philosophical and scientific thought in the Western world. These philosophers were among the first in the Western tradition to think rigorously and precisely about central issues in metaphysics, epistemology, ethics, political philosophy, and even philosophy of language. This course introduces students to some of the ideas, arguments and methods of investigation of these thinkers. After a brief examination of some Presocratic philosophers (Thales, Anaximander, Anaximenes, Heracleitus, Parmenides, Zeno, Democritus, and Protagoras), the lion's share of the course will be devoted to three profoundly influential thinkers: Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle. We will end with a brief examination of three schools of Hellenistic philosophy: Epicureanism, Stoicism, and Skepticism. We will read both primary texts by these thinkers as well as a scholarly commentary on them; our goal will be the articulation of a clear and precise account of their views, arguments, and methods of investigation.

Course Texts

Required: (1) [AP] Christopher Shields, Ancient Philosophy: A Contemporary Introduction, 2nd ed. (Routledge, 2012); (2) [OR] Online readings, which will be made available through Brightspace.

Course Evaluation

Assignment: Students will have 24-hours to answer questions online covering course material.

Due dates: see course schedule.

(2) Participation Grade

Value: 3%

Assignment: Students will be awarded a grade on the basis of their participation in the class; this includes, but is not limited to, attending lectures.

Interpretation of these grade definitions is up to the discretion of the instructor. If you receive a grade during the course that you believe is unfair, please begin by discussing the matter with the instructor in a respectful, open-minded manner. Rest assured that if you still believe the grade you received is unfair you can appeal the matter to the chair of the department. For additional information regarding grades, please see the September 2023 issue of the academic calendar (online here: Grading). All evaluations of tests and assignments will be calculated according to percentage scores. Letter grades and grade point scores are listed purely for reference.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is intellectual honesty and responsibility for academic work that the student submits, whether individual or group work. It involves commitment to the values of honesty, trust, and responsibility. It is expected that students will respect these ethical values in all activities related to learning, teaching, research, and service. Therefore, plagiarism and other acts against academic integrity are serious academic offences and they will not be tolerated in this course. Plagiarism includes the use of Chat GPT and similar technologies.

The responsibility of the institution

Instructors and academic units have the responsibility to ensure that standards of academic honesty are met. By doing so, the institution recognizes students for their hard work and assures them that other students do not have an unfair advantage through cheating on essays, exams, and projects.

The responsibility of the student

Plagiarism sometimes occurs due to a misunderstanding regarding the rules of academic integrity, but it is the responsibility of the student to know them. If the student is unsure about the standards for citations or for referencing sources, the instructor should be consulted. Depending on the severity of the case, penalties include a warning, a failing grade, a record on the student's transcript, or a suspension.

It is the student's responsibility to read and understand the University's policy on academic integrity. For the policy, see the January 2025 edition of the academic calendar (online here: University of Victoria Statement on Academic Integrity).

Intellectual property of materials on the LMS website

Please note that all assignments for this course and all materials posted to the LMS website are the intellectual property of myself and the University of Victoria. Do not circulate this material or post it to note-sharing sites without the instructor's permission. Posting course materials to note-sharing sites or otherwise circulating course materials without the permission of your instructor violates the Policy on Academic Integrity (link above). Any evidence that you are circulating materials without permission will be referred to the Chair of the Philosophy Department for investigation.

Policy on Late or Missed Assignments

For assignments that are missed for no legitimate reasons, there will be arrangements made for a make-up assignment, however, a penalty of 10% will be levied on this assignment. For assignments missed for legitimate reasons, the penalty will be waived. For information about what constitute legitimate reasons for academic concession, please see here. The previous policies do not apply to students with documented disabilities; all attempt will be made to accommodate such students including, but not restricted to, providing make-up assignments and tests.

Accessibility

The University of Victoria is committed to creating a learning experience that is as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience any barriers to learning in this course, please feel welcome to discuss your concerns with me. If you have a disability or chronic health condition, or think you may have a disability, you may also want to meet with an advisor at the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL). Counseling Services

Many, if not most, students experience some difficulties with their mental health during their years as undergraduate students. Make sure you are familiar with the university's Counseling

Services (<https://www.uvic.ca/services/counselling/>) which is an excellent resource you have at your disposal on campus. It is hard to shake the stigma associated with problems like depression and anxiety, but if at any point you can benefit from help with mental health issues, please contact Counseling Services. They genuinely want to help, and why not take advantage of this free resource?

Important Dates

Please consult the university calendar's Academic Year Important Dates for information about last possible dates to withdraw from courses without penalty, examinations period start/end dates, and so on: <https://www.uvic.ca/calendar/dates/>
