Course Description
This course surveys some of the work of the ancient Greek philosopher, Plato (428/7-348/7 BCE). A student of Socrates and a teacher of Aristotle, Plato is one of the most influential and important figures in the history of Western thought. The mathematician and philosopher A. N. Whitehead remarked that: “the safest general characterization of the European philosophical tradition is that it consists of a series of footnotes to Plato.” It is no surprise, therefore, that today, more than 2300 years later, Plato’s ideas and methods continue to excite interest and reflection. Plato thought rigorously and systematically about a dizzying variety of topics. In this course we will consider some of his ideas, arguments and theories in political philosophy, moral theory, metaphysics, epistemology, and psychology. We will discuss such questions as: what is the best form of socio-political organization? What is justice? How do we come to know anything? What is knowledge? What is the nature of the soul or mind? In what sense, if any, do we survive after death? Whether or not we agree with Plato’s often surprising answers to these questions, there can be little doubt that his method of rigorous argument and careful reasoning in pursuit of those answers calls for careful study and contemplation as much today as during Plato’s lifetime.

Course Texts

Course Evaluation
Students must submit a digital copy of each of the assignments through CourseSpaces and by the assignment deadline.

(1) Comment Sheets
Value: 1st = 10%, 2nd = 15%, 3rd = 15% (total = 40%)
Length: ≥800 words
Assignment: Students must write a commentary on a passage from the course text from among a provided by the instructor. Each assignment will be provided 1 week before the due date. Further information will be provided with each assignment.

Due dates: see course schedule.

(2) Essays
Value: 1st essay = 25%, 2nd essay = 30% (total = 55%)
Length: ≥1500 words (per essay)
Assignment: Students must write a paper of the relevant length on one of a selection of topics provided by the instructor. Each assignment will be provided 2-3 weeks before the due date. Further information will be provided with each assignment.
Due dates: see course schedule.

(3) Class participation
Value: 5%
This will be based on both class attendance and contributions to class. While this course is primarily lecture based, there will be time allotted each class for questions and students are strongly encouraged to raise questions during the lecture.

Interpretation of these grade definitions is up to the discretion of the instructor. If you receive a grade during the course that you believe is unfair, please begin by discussing the matter with the instructor in a respectful, open-minded manner. Rest assured that if you still believe the grade you received is unfair you can appeal the matter to the chair of the department. For additional information regarding grades, please see pp. 51-53 of the most recent (September 2019) edition of the University of Victoria Undergraduate Calendar. All evaluations of tests and assignments will be calculated according to percentage scores. Letter grades and grade point scores are listed purely for reference.

Academic Integrity
Academic integrity is intellectual honesty and responsibility for academic work that the student submits, whether individual or group work. It involves commitment to the values of honesty, trust, and responsibility. It is expected that students will respect these ethical values in all activities related to learning, teaching, research, and service. Therefore, plagiarism and other acts against academic integrity are serious academic offences.

The responsibility of the institution
Instructors and academic units have the responsibility to ensure that standards of academic honesty are met. By doing so, the institution recognizes students for their hard work and assures them that other students do not have an unfair advantage through cheating on essays, exams, and projects.

The responsibility of the student
Plagiarism sometimes occurs due to a misunderstanding regarding the rules of academic integrity, but it is the responsibility of the student to know them. If the student is unsure about the standards for citations or for referencing sources, the instructor should be consulted. Depending on the severity of the case, penalties include a warning, a failing grade, a record on the student’s transcript, or a suspension.

It is the student’s responsibility to read and understand the University’s policy on academic integrity: https://web.uvic.ca/calendar2018-09/undergrad/info/regulations/academic-integrity.html

Policy on Late or Missed Assignments
All assignments submitted on or before the specified due dates will be adjudicated and returned with written comments. Assignments submitted within one week after the specified due dates will be adjudicated without penalty; however, they will be returned without written comments. Lastly, any assignment submitted more than one week after the specified due date will be adjudicated and returned without comments, and a penalty of 6% per day will be assessed, unless the student can provide official documentation of the reason for the delay (e.g., a physician’s note). The previous policies do not apply to students with documented disabilities; all attempt will be made to accommodate such students including, but not restricted to, providing make-up assignments and tests.
Counseling Services
Many, if not most, students experience some difficulties with their mental health during their years as undergraduate students. Make sure you are familiar with the university’s Counseling Services (https://www.uvic.ca/services/counselling/) which is an excellent resource you have at your disposal on campus. It is hard to shake the stigma associated with problems like depression and anxiety, but if at any point you can benefit from help with mental health issues, please contact Counseling Services. They genuinely want to help, and why not take advantage of this free resource?

Important Dates
Please consult the university calendar’s Academic Year Important Dates for information about last possible dates to withdraw from courses without penalty, examinations period start/end dates, and so on: https://web.uvic.ca/calendar2018-09/general/dates.html

Technology in Classroom
Some students require laptops or voice recognition apps for their learning strategies, so I do not prohibit their use in the classroom. However, studies demonstrate that multi-tasking reduces the performance of other nearby students, so anyone caught on social media, internet surfing, etc. will be asked to leave and potentially subject to disciplinary action.

Academic Advising
For information about declaring a program, academic concessions or interpreting your CAPP report, please visit Undergraduate Advising (https://www.uvic.ca/services/advising/) or make an appointment with an adviser.

Territory Acknowledgment
The University of Victoria is committed to acknowledging and respecting the Songhees, Esquimalt and WSÁNEĆ peoples on whose traditional territory the university stands and whose historical relationships with the land continue to this day. For information about support for indigenous students and efforts to foster reconciliation, please visit the Office of Indigenous Academic & Community Engagement: https://www.uvic.ca/services/indigenous/.
