

FRAN265 — Global French Connections
Section A01 (1.5 units) | Fall 2026 | face-to-face delivery

© Edouard Duval-Carrié, Tropical Convention in Purple (2022)

This course introduces students to the diversity of the Francophone world on all five continents, through a geo-historical and socio-cultural perspective. It explores topics such as historical and contemporary tensions between colonialism and Indigeneity, cultural and linguistic reclamation, and decolonial movements, through media and culture. The course includes an experiential and community-engaged learning component.

Schedule and Classroom

Thursdays, 4:30pm—7:20pm
Cornett Building (COR), room A225

Instructor

Dr. Pierre-Luc Landry, Ph.D. (he/they)
Office hours: Wednesdays, 10:00am—12:00pm
pierreluclandry@uvic.ca

Language of Instruction

French

All course materials will be available free of charge on Brightspace.

Prerequisite

No prerequisite; course open to all students who understand spoken and written French.

Students enrolled in a French and Francophone Studies program must submit their assignments in French; other students can choose to do so in French or in English.

Assignments

