University of Victoria, Faculty of Law

2022-2023 Teaching Opportunities
Sessional Instructor Positions

Request for Expressions of Interest

The Faculty of Law invites expressions of interest for teaching in a number of areas in the 2022-2023 academic year, including the following courses:

- LAW 326A Individual Employment Law (Fall Term)
- LAW 326B Labour Law (Fall Term)
- LAW 337 Dispute Resolution: Theory and Practice (Fall Term)
- LAW 342 Immigration and Citizenship Law (Fall Term)

- LAW 307B Civil Procedure with Drafting (Spring Term)
- LAW 330 International Law (Spring Term)
- LAW 346B International Taxation (Spring Term)

- LAW 313 Securities Regulation (Fall or Spring Term)

All appointments will be for the Fall 2022 academic term or for the Spring 2023 academic term, and will take the form of a Sessional Instructor appointment within the CUPE 4163 (Component 3) Sessional Lecturers certification.

Appointment at the rank of Sessional Instructor requires successful completion of an LLB, JD, BCL or equivalent law degree, and at least two years of practice or related experience. A graduate degree in law would be an asset. A record of successful teaching and publication in law and related fields also would be an asset.

Remuneration will be commensurate with the nature of the appointment, educational background and experience.

What you have to do to apply

Applications consisting of a cover letter that specifies areas of teaching, availability to teach in-person or online, preferred academic term, a curriculum vitae, and the names of (and contact information for) two referees should be received no later than Friday 15 July 2022 at 4:30 pm, sent by email to Geoffrey Loomer, Associate Dean, Administration and Research at lawfas@uvic.ca.

Information about the Faculty of Law can be found at <http://www.uvic.ca/law>.

It is anticipated that staffing will be completed by 31 July 2022. The University reserves the right to fill additional teaching assignments from the pool of applicants for this posting. The
