

Office of the Associate Dean
Academic and Student Relations

Phone: 250-721-8152

Fax: 250-721-6390

lawada@uvic.ca

PART-TIME STATUS: Information for Law Students

Due to certain circumstances, a student may wish to change his or her status in the J.D. program from full-time to part-time. The following policies deal with changes in enrollment status:

Full-time to part-time

A full-time student who has achieved standing in first year may apply to continue his or her studies as a part-time student. The Faculty may allow a limited number of these students to enroll as part-time students upon being satisfied that a student is unable to continue as a full-time student because of health or physical disability, or family or financial hardship.

Part-time to full-time

Once a part-time student has achieved standing in first year, he or she may request to become a full-time student.

Remaining part-time

After achieving standing in first year, part-time students must demonstrate to the Faculty at the beginning of each academic session that they continue to be unable to attend on a full-time basis because of health or physical disability, or exceptional family or financial hardships.

View the Faculty of Law regulations on part-time study in the academic calendar at

<https://web.uvic.ca/calendar/undergrad/law/regulations.html#>