What would you like to start reading + watching + listening to this summer?

Our summer-2024 list
The UVic Graduate Student Law & Society Research Group acknowledges and respects the lək̓ʷəŋən peoples on whose traditional territory the University of Victoria stands, as well as the Songhees, Esquimalt and WŚÁNEĆ peoples whose historical relationships with the land continue to this day.

More than one hundred armed conflicts are currently causing a devastating loss of human lives, massive displacement as well as violations of international humanitarian law and human rights. As an informal group of graduate students, we stand in solidarity with the people and communities who experience the disasters of war and suffer because of violence, persecution, oppression, hegemony, and imperialism. Hence, we also condemn all efforts to repress and criminalize peaceful protest.

MANY THANKS TO: the kindhearted readers who contributed to this list as well as UVic-Faculty of Law, UVic-Libraries, and UVic-Law Communications.

Title: “What would you like to start reading + watching + listening to this summer? Our summer-2024 list”

Prepared by: Esteban Vallejo Toledo and Eva Linde - UVic Graduate Student Law & Society Research Group
Victoria, British Columbia, Canada
Diana M. Priestly Law Library, Rm 302
June-July 2024

Contact: estebanvallejotoledo@uvic.ca evalinde@uvic.ca

Images:
Picture on the cover: UVic-Law Communications

[Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs]
CC BY-NC-ND
So... you now want a million friends, eh?

As it always happens, we decided to prepare this 2024 reading list when Eva Linde dropped by Victoria before Summer. At that time, she asked me if I had our mass emails ready to go. My answer was: “well, you know… not yet.” With all the things that were happening (and are still happening) around the world, I was feeling that people weren’t going to be cheering for another of our excellent mass emails. However, since none of our projects happen without our emails, I proposed to combine the emails with conversations. “Let’s go to the street and ask people what they’d like to read this summer!”

Showing her proficiency in Spanish and her ability to tease me using very famous and optimistic songs, Eva Linde replied: “So, ahora quieres tener un millón de amigos y así más fuerte poder cantar, eh?” That means: “So, you now want a million friends to sing louder, eh?” (If you click the hyperlink, you’ll listen to Roberto Carlos singing his song and will follow the lyrics too. It’s a nice song. You won’t regret it!).

That’s how, after sending a lot of emails, we went a bit Socratic and did two things we seem to be good at: asking questions and facilitating answers. All our conversations and each email confirmed that Summer reading lists are thrilling experiences. They are great means to share information and satisfy people’s curiosity. They are fun and connect people.

To organize all the information that we got, we kept in mind that rumour has it that visual learners enjoy simplicity, pictures, and colours. Thus, to avoid saturating you with a lot of book summaries, we used key terms that describe each book, movie, and album. We also included a lot of hyperlinks where you’ll find great additional information. You’ll find a summary of the list at the bottom of the table of contents (or just here).

Our 2024 list is a very special one. There’s a lot of great information here. It seems that our mass emails and Socratic approach have worked this year. Thank you very much to all our contributors. We really cherish your support and appreciate the time you spent replying to our emails and talking with us. Wait for our next mass email! Meanwhile, we look forward to hearing from you.

Esteban Vallejo Toledo & Eva Linde
UVic Graduate Student Law & Society Research Group
So… you now want a million friends, eh?

Anonymous peer reviewers + editors 😊

Coffee + Capicola-sandwich lovers at the Student Union Building

Contributors visiting the book store

Music fans at the UVic’s Quartet Fest West 2024

People visiting UVic + First Peoples House

Proud parents attending their children’s graduation

Security officer

Students celebrating their convocation with their kids

Very kind contributors walking inside UVic’s Ring

Aaron Leakey, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

Alessandra Percival, Library Resource Assistant | UVic-Libraries

Aman Gebru, Assistant Professor | University of Houston - Law

Brad Bryan, Assistant Professor | UVic - Law

Chidimma Ike, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

Christian Schmidt, Special Projects Librarian | UVic - Libraries

Courtney Lundrigan, Head of Engagement and Learning | UVic - Libraries

Emily Arvay, CAC Coordinator | UVic - Centre for Academic Communication

Emily Nickerson, Business Librarian | UVic - Libraries

Esteban Vallejo Toledo, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

Eva Linde, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

Evelyn Feldman, Acquisitions and Electronic Resources Librarian | UVic-Libraries

Mark Gillen, Professor | UVic - Law

Miroslaw Michal Sadowski, Lecturer | University of Strathclyde - Law

Monique Grenier, Science and Research Data Literacy Librarian | UVic-Libraries

Ola Jonczak, Library Resource Assistant | UVic - Libraries

Qian Liu, Assistant Professor of Law and Society | University of Calgary - Sociology

Rachel Steinhoff, Faculty Assistant | UVic - Law

Rich McCue, Manager of Libraries Digital Scholarship Commons & Sessional Instructor | UVic - Libraries & Education
Shahira Khair, Data Curation and Organizational Analysis Librarian | UVic-Libraries ..............................................................31
Sheryl N. Hamiton, Professor | Carleton University - Journalism and Communication & Law and Legal Studies ..........................................................................................................................31
Tamara Amoroso Gonçalves, Sessional Instructor | UVic-Gender Studies .........................................................33
Tiffany Gordon, Graduate Program Coordinator | UVic- Law ..................................................................................33
Val Napoleon, Professor - Law Foundation Chair of Indigenous Justice and Governance | Faculty of Law - UVic .................................................................34
Yi Wang, MA Linguistics Student & Library Student Assistant | UVic - Libraries ............................................................34
Ying Liu, Librarian for International Student Support, Pacific & Asian Studies, and Religious Studies | UVic - Libraries .................................................................................35

OK… OK… This is our 2024 summary 😊 ..........................................................................................................................35

Why did you choose them? Comments from some of our contributors: ..........................................................39
Muiwlanej kikamaqki "Honouring Our Ancestors": Mi’kmaq Who Left a Mark on the History of the Northeast, 1680 to 1980 edited by Janet E. Chute

UTP | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads
- Mi'kmaq People
- History
- Leadership
- Canada

"We Are in Charge Here": Inuit Self-Government and the Nunatsiavut Assembly by Graham White

UTP | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads
- Inuit People
- History and Politics
- Self-Government
- Canada

Every Rising Sun by Jamila Ahmed

Macmillan Publishers | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads
- Fiction
- Women storytellers
- Shaherazade
- One Thousand and One Nights

The Grass Dancer by Susan Power

Berkley/Penguin | UVic Catalogue | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads
- Fiction
- Dakota People
- North Dakota
- Storytelling
Distorted Descent: White Claims to Indigenous Identity by Darryl Leroux

- Race and Identity
- Politics
- Genealogy
- Québec

Mass Supervision: Probation, Parole, and the Illusion of Safety and Freedom by Vincent Schiraldi

- History
- Probation
- Parole
- United States

- History
- Colonialism
- Indigenous Peoples
- North American Atlantic Coast

Dominion: The Railway and the Rise of Canada by Stephen Bown

- History
- Canada
- Colonialism
- 19th Century
Lessons in Legitimacy: Colonialism, Capitalism, and the Rise of State Schooling in British Columbia by Sean Carleton

UBC Press | UVic Catalogue | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- History
- British Columbia
- Education
- Colonialism

Prison of Grass: Canada from a Native Point of View by Howard Adams

Fifth House Publishing | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads

- History
- Indigenous Peoples
- Canada
- Colonialism

Entangled Domains: Empire, Law and Religion in Northern Nigeria by Rabiat Akande

Cambridge University Press | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads

- History
- Nigeria
- Colonialism
- Law

Completing Humanity: The International Law of Decolonization, 1960-82 by Umut Özsu

Cambridge University Press | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads

- Decolonization
- History
- International Law
- International lawyers
The War in Ukraine and International Law edited by Masahiko Asada and Dai Tamada

- Ukraine
- Russia
- International Law
- War

The Honourable John Norquay: Indigenous Premier, Canadian Statesman by Gerald Friesen

- History
- John Norquay
- Biography
- Politics

The Riel Problem: Canada, the Métis, and a Resistant Hero by Albert Braz

- History
- Louis Riel
- Revisionism
- Politics of Representation

One Way Back: A Memoir by Christine Blasey Ford

- Violence against women
- Courage
- Resilience
- US Supreme Court confirmation hearings
Coffee + Capicola-sandwich lovers at the Student Union Building

Asian Americans in an Anti-Black World by Claire Jean Kim

- Race and Identity
- Asian Americans
- African Americans
- Race Relations

Great Expectations by Vinson Cunningham

- Fiction
- Presidential Campaigns
- Race
- Politics

- Economics
- History
- Politics
- Inequality
Contributors visiting the book store

Limbo: Blue-Collar Roots, White-Collar Dreams
by Alfred Lubrano

- Non-Fiction
- Class Mobility

Eroding a Way of Life: Neoliberalism and the Family Farm
by Murray Knuttila

- History
- Neoliberalism
- Farmers
- Western Canada

The Break
by Katherena Vermette

- Fiction
- Métis Families
- Winnipeg
- Feminism
Music fans at the UVic’s Quartet Fest West 2024

Artificial: A Love Story by Amy Kurzweil
- Non-Fiction
- Inventors
- Families
- Graphic Novels

Cahokia Jazz by Francis Spufford
- Fiction
- Mystery
- Music
- History

The Great White Bard: How to Love Shakespeare While Talking About Race by Farah Karim-Cooper
- Shakespeare
- Race in Literature
- Gender in Literature
- History

The Legacy of Louis Riel: Leader of the Métis People by John Andrew Morrow
- History
- Louis Riel
- Writings
- Biography
People visiting UVic + First Peoples House

For Such a Time as This by Shani Akilah

- Fiction
- Short Stories

Doughnut Economics: Seven Ways to Think Like a 21st-Century Economist by Kate Raworth

- Economics
- Distributive
- Regenerative
- Ecological

Challenge to Civilization: Indigenous Wisdom and the Future by Blair A. Stonechild

- Indigenous Peoples
- Traditional Knowledge
- Human Ecology
- Ecolization

Mascot by Charles Waters and Traci Sorell

- Fiction
- Juvenile Literature
- Identity
- Poetry
Better the Blood by Michael Bennett

Grove Atlantic  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Fiction
- Mystery
- Crime
- New Zealand

Stolen by Ann-Helén Laestadius

Simon & Schuster  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Fiction
- Mystery
- Sámi People
- Sweden

Building a Nest from the Bones of My People by Cara-Lyn Morgan

Invisible  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Poetry
- Families
- Motherhood
- Colonialism

Halal Sex: The Intimate Lives of Muslim Women in North America by Sheima Benembarek

Penguin Random House  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Muslim women
- Gender
- Feminism
- Ethnography
Proud parents attending their children’s graduation

Behind You Is the Sea by Susan Muaddi Darraj

- Fiction
- Families
- Palestine
- United States

Temple Folk by Aaliyah Bilal

- Fiction
- Families
- Black Muslims
- United States

The Fox Wife by Yangsze Choo

- Fiction
- Mythology
- China
- Families

Security officer

Knife: Meditations After an Attempted Murder by Salman Rushdie

- Memoir
- Recovery
- Art
- Violence
Students celebrating their convocation with their kids

Beneath by Cori Doerrfeld
Little, Brown Books for Young Readers  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads
- Children Literature
- Fiction
- Graphic Novels
- Families

The King Penguin by Vanessa Roeder
Dial / Penguin Random House  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads
- Children Literature
- Fiction
- Graphic Novels
- Communities

Forever and Always by Brittany J. Thurman
Illustrated by Shamar Knight-Justice
Harper Collins  |  Goodreads
- Children Literature
- Fiction
- African Americans
- Families

What Does Israel Fear From Palestine? by Raja Shehadeh
Profile Books  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads
- Fiction
- Time travel
- Family relations
- Love
Very kind contributors walking inside UVic’s Ring

The Hundred Years’ War on Palestine: A History of Settler Colonialism and Resistance, 1917–2017 by Rashid Khalidi

Metropolitan/Macmillan  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads (Portuguese)

- History
- Palestine
- Colonialism
- Resistance

Neuromancer by William Gibson

Penguin  |  UVic Catalogue  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Fiction
- Science
- Cyberspace
- Artificial Intelligence

The Radio Hour by Victoria Purman

Harper Collins  |  Goodreads

- Fiction
- Radio-serial
- Ghostwriter
- Feminist

Aaron Leakey, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

Click superscripts to read comments

After Evil: A Politics of Human Rights by Robert Meister

Columbia University Press  |  UVic Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Human Rights
- Politics
- Justice
- History
I am Woman: A Native Perspective on Sociology and Feminism by Lee Maracle

The Library Book by Susan Orlean

Hamnet by Maggie O’Farrell

Cutting for Stone by Abraham Verghese
Against Progress: Intellectual Property and Fundamental Values in the Internet Age by Jessica Silbey

Brad Bryan, Assistant Professor | UVic – Law

Capital: A Critique of Political Economy, Volume 1 by Karl Marx

Chidimma Ike, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

Covid-19 in Asia: Law and Policy Contexts edited by Victor V. Ramraj
Vulnerable: The Law, Policy and Ethics of COVID-19
edited by Colleen M. Flood, Sophie Theriault, Jane Philpott, Vanessa MacDonnell, and Sridhar Venkatapuram

University of Ottawa Press | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads

- COVID-19
- Law
- Social relations
- Politics

Proportionality in Law: An Analytical Perspective
edited by David Duarte and Jorge Silva Sampaio

Springer | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads

- Judicial Review
- Law
- Human Rights
- Philosophy

Movie: HATIMA, directed by Victor Olukoju

Trailer

Christian Schmidt, Special Projects Librarian | UVic – Libraries

Click superscripts to read comments

Greenwich Killing Time by Kinky Friedman

WorldCat | Goodreads

- Fiction
- Murder
- Investigation
- New York
Bluebird, Bluebird by Attica Locke

Mystery
Crime
Racism
Rural US

Sanctuary by Garry Disher

Fiction
Thief
Suspense
New beginnings

Essentials of Classic Italian Cooking by Marcella Hazan

Cookbooks
Italian
Essential manual
All levels of expertise

I'm Not Stiller by Max Frisch

Fiction
Prisoner
False charges
Self-deception vs. Self-acceptance
On Combatting Antisemitism Today by Theodor W. Adorno

- Anti-authoritarian
- Education
- Prevention
- Antisemitism

Music: The Loneliest Man I Ever Met by Kinky Friedman

The Guardian (Review)

Music: Lily Mullen Is Here by Lily Mullen

Mississippi Records

Music: Introduction to... Escape-Ism by Escap-Ism

Introduction To ... Escap-Ism/bandcamp
“Whatever It Is, I’m Against It”: Resistance to Change in Higher Education by Brian Rosenberg

Harvard Education Press | UVic Catalogue | Goodreads

- Higher Education
- Entrenched Structures
- Postsecondary Reform
- United States

Coming Home by Brittney Griner and Michelle Burford

Penguin Random House | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- Memoir
- Olympic Medalist
- Captivity in Russia
- Home

Music: Save Yourself by Make-Up

Save Yourself/bandcamp

Music app/game: Music League

Link
Homegoing by Yaa Gyasi

- Fiction
- Ghana and United States
- Ancestry
- History

The Last Unicorn by Peter S. Beagle

- Fantasy
- Adventure
- Friendship
- Belonging

A Thousand Ships by Natalie Haynes

- Fiction
- Greek mythology
- Odyssey and Iliad
- Feminist retelling
Crushed Wild Mint by Jess Hāusti

- Poetry
- Motherland

Hiroshima Notes by Kenzaburo Oe

- Hiroshima
- Impact and lessons
- Human dignity
- Solidarity

Road to Surrender: Three Men and the Countdown to the End of World War II by Evan Thomas

- Nuclear warfare
- Decision making
- Moral questions
- Geo-politics

Mockumentary: Cunk on...

- BBC
Music: Switched-On Bach by Wendy Carlos

Wendy Carlos’ Website  |  UVic Catalogue

---

Eva Linde, PhD Student in Law & Society | UVic

The Constitution of the Environmental Emergency by Jocelyn Stacey

Bloomsbury  |  UVic Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Environmental law
- Environmental governance
- Rule of law
- Public justification

---

Evelyn Feldman, Acquisitions and Electronic Resources Librarian | UVic-Libraries

Click superscript to read comments

Madhouse at the End of the Earth: The Belgica’s Journey into the Dark Antarctic Night by Julian Sancton

Penguin Random House  |  GVPL Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Survival story
- Polar expedition
- Adventure
- Human extremes
Animal Farm by George Orwell

- Fiction
- Satire
- Politics
- Corruption

Frankenstein or The Modern Prometheus by Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley

- Fiction
- Scientific advancement
- Social alienation
- Moral questions

Nothing But the Truth: The Memoir of an Unlikely Lawyer by The Secret Barrister

- Memoir
- Practitioners
- Law
- Courts

The Story of Russia by Orlando Figes

- History
- Russia
- Imperialism
- Ideology
Going Infinite: The Rise and Fall of a New Tycoon
by Michael Lewis

W.W. Norton | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- Crypto markets
- Fraud
- Bankruptcy
- “Crypto-bros”

Miroslaw Michal Sadowski, Lecturer | University of Strathclyde - Law

Click superscript to read comments

Pirate Enlightenment, or the Real Libertalia
by David Graeber

Macmillan Publishers | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- History
- Political order
- Zana-Malata
- Madagascar

Monique Grenier, Science and Research Data Literacy Librarian | UVic-Libraries

Click superscripts to read comments

Against the Loveless World by Susan Abulhawa

Simon & Schuster | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- Fiction
- Palestinian Woman
- Love
- Determination
Why Fish Don’t Exist by Lulu Miller

Simon & Schuster | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- Biography
- Taxonomist
- Perseverance
- Chaos

Movie: Seagrass by Meredith Hama-Brown

Ola Jonczak, Library Resource Assistant | UVic - Libraries

Madhouse at the End of the Earth: The Belgica's Journey into the Dark Antarctic Night by Julian Sancton

Penguin Random House | GVPL Catalogue | Goodreads

- Survival story
- Polar expedition
- Adventure
- Human extremes

Qian Liu, Assistant Professor of Law and Society | University of Calgary - Sociology

Click superscripts to read comments

Unequal Profession: Race and Gender in Legal Academia by Meera E. Deo

Stanford University Press | Goodreads

- Law schools
- Women of colour
- Career challenges
- Opportunities
Out of Darkness: Rumana Monzur’s Journey Through Betrayal, Tyranny and Abuse by Denise Chong

- Biography
- Perseverance
- Pursuit of justice
- Violence against women

Rachel Steinhoff, Faculty Assistant | UVic - Law

The Ministry for the Future by Kim Stanley Robinson

- Fiction
- Climate change
- Human efforts
- Politics

Rich McCue, Manager of Libraries Digital Scholarship Commons & Sessional Instructor | UVic - Libraries & Education

Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs by Johann Hari

- Fiction
- Addiction
- Injustices
- Human stories

Nuclear War: A Scenario by Annie Jacobsen

- Journalism
- Interviews
- Nuclear warfare
- Decision making
Made to Stick: Why Some Ideas Survive and Others Die
by Chip Heath & Dan Heath

- Ideas
- Curiosity
- Communication
- Memory

The Cathedral & the Bazaar by Eric S. Raymond

- Computer industry
- Information economy
- Open source
- Collaborative software

Shahira Khair, Data Curation and Organizational Analysis
Librarian | UVic-Libraries

Click superscript to read comments
Circe by Madeline Miller

- Fiction
- Greek mythology
- Odyssey
- Feminist retelling

Sheryl N. Hamiton, Professor | Carleton University - Journalism and Communication & Law and Legal Studies

The Virus Touch: Theorizing Epidemic Media
by Bishnupriya Ghosh

- Media Studies
- Pandemics
- Communication
- Multispecies relations
Media Law Through Science Fiction: Do Androids Dream of Electric Free Speech by Daxton R. Stewart

- Mass media
- Privacy
- Free speech
- Surveillance

The Tempter by Norbert Wiener

- Fiction
- Cybernetics
- Copyright
- Moral questions

Limbo by Bernard Wolfe

- Fiction
- Pacifism
- Voluntary amputation
- International tensions

The Cybernetic Imagination in Science Fiction by Patricia S. Warrick

- Literary studies
- Science fiction
- Perceptions
- History
Body Criticism: Imaging the Unseen in Enlightenment Art and Medicine by Barbara M. Stafford

- History
- Body metaphors
- Perceptions
- Non-linguistic representation

Camera Geologica: An Elemental History of Photography by Siobhan Angus

- History
- Image making
- Colonialism
- Environmental degradation

Tamara Amoroso Gonçalves, Sessional Instructor | UVic-Gender Studies

Click superscript to read comments

Suing for Silence: Sexual Violence and Defamation Law by Mandi Gray

- Law and society
- Liar lawsuits
- Intimidation
- Sexual-violence litigation

Tiffany Gordon, Graduate Program Coordinator | UVic-Law

To Speak for the Trees: My Life’s Journey from Ancient Celtic Wisdom to a Healing Vision of the Forest by Diana Beresford-Kroeger

- Memoir
- Botanist
- Ecology
- Culture
Val Napoleon, Professor - Law Foundation Chair of Indigenous Justice and Governance | Faculty of Law - UVic

Valley of the Birdtail: An Indian Reserve, A White Town, and the Road to Reconciliation by Andrew Stobo Sniderman and Douglas Sanderson 39

Yi Wang, MA Linguistics Student & Library Student Assistant | UVic - Libraries

Karl Marx’s Ecosocialism: Capital, Nature, and the Unfinished Critique of Political Economy by Kōhei Saitō

Slow Down: The Degrowth Manifesto by Kōhei Saitō

Marx in the Anthropocene: Towards the Idea of Degrowth Communism by Kōhei Saitō
Fantasy: How It Works by Brian Attebery

Oxford University Press  |  UVic Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Literary studies
- Fantasy
- Storytelling
- World-building

Zao Wou-Ki: No Limits by Michelle Yun

Asia Society Museum  |  UVic Catalogue  |  Goodreads

- Chinese painting
- Chinese calligraphy
- Visual poetry
- Postwar abstraction

Movie: Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress by Dai Sijie

IMDb

OK... OK... This is our 2024 summary😊

Children and youngsters:

- Beneath by Cori Doerrfeld
- Forever and Always by Brittany J. Thurman, Illustrated by Shamar Knight-Justice
- Mascot by Charles Waters and Traci Sorell
- The King Penguin by Vanessa Roeder
Cooking:

- Essentials of Classic Italian Cooking by Marcella Hazan

Fiction:

- A Thousand Ships by Natalie Haynes
- Against the Loveless World by Susan Abulhawa
- Animal Farm by George Orwell
- Behind You Is the Sea by Susan Muaddi Darraj
- Better the Blood by Michael Bennett
- Bluebird, Bluebird by Attica Locke
- Cahokia Jazz by Francis Spufford
- Cirse by Madeline Miller
- Cutting for Stone by Abraham Verghese
- Every Rising Sun by Jamila Ahmed
- For Such a Time as This by Shani Akilah
- Frankenstein or The Modern Prometheus
- Great Expectations by Vinson Cunningham
- Greenwich Killing Time by Kinky Friedman
- Hamnet by Maggie O’Farrell
- Homegoing by Yaa Gyasi
- I’m Not Stiller by Max Frisch
- Limbo by Bernard Wolfe
- Neuromancer by William Gibson
- Sanctuary by Garry Disher
- Stolen by Ann-Helén Laestadius
- Temple Folk by Aaliyah Bilal
- The Break by Katherena Vermette
- The Fox Wife by Yangsze Choo
- The Grass Dancer by Susan Power
- The Last Unicorn by Peter S. Beagle
- The Ministry for the Future by Kim Stanley Robinson
- The Radio Hour by Victoria Purman
- The Tempter by Norbert Wiener

Movies + more visual media:

- Cunk on...
- Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress by Dai Sijie
- HATIMA by Victor Olukoku
- Seagrass by Meredith Hama-Brown
- Zao Wou-Ki: No Limits by Michelle Yun
Music:
- Introduction to... Escape-Ism by Escap-Ism
- Lily Mullen Is Here by Lily Mullen
- Music League (app/game)
- Save Yourself by Make-Up
- Switched-On Bach by Wendy Carlos
- The Loneliest Man I Ever Met by Kinky Friedman

Poetry:
- Building a Nest from the Bones of My People by Cara-Lyn Morgan
- Crushed Wild Mint by Jess Háusti

Nonfiction:
- After Evil: A Politics of Human Rights by Robert Meister
- Against Progress: Intellectual Property and Fundamental Values in the Internet Age by Jessica Silbey
- Artificial: A Love Story by Amy Kurzweil
- Asian Americans in an Anti-Black World by Claire Jean Kim
- Body Criticism: Imaging the Unseen in Enlightenment Art and Medicine by Barbara M. Stafford
- Camera Geologica: An Elemental History of Photography by Siobhan Angus
- Capital: A Critique of Political Economy, Volume 1 by Karl Marx
- Challenge to Civilization: Indigenous Wisdom and the Future by Blair A. Stonechild
- Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs by Johann Hari
- Coming Home by Brittney Griner and Michelle Burford
- Completing Humanity: The International Law of Decolonization, 1960-82 by Umut Özsu
- Covid-19 in Asia: Law and Policy Contexts edited by Victor V. Ramraj
- Distorted Descent: White Claims to Indigenous Identity by Darryl Leroux
- Doughnut Economics: Seven Ways to Think Like a 21st-Century Economist by Kate Raworth
- Dominion: The Railway and the Rise of Canada by Stephen Bown
- Eroding a Way of Life: Neoliberalism and the Family Farm by Murray Knuttoa
- Entangled Domains: Empire, Law and Religion in Northern Nigeria by Rabiat Akande
- Fantasy: How It Works by Brian Attebery
- Going Infinite: The Rise and Fall of a New Tycoon by Michael Lewis
- Halal Sex: The Intimate Lives of Muslim Women in North America by Sheima Benembarek
- Hiroshima Notes by Kenzaburo Oe
- I am Woman: A Native Perspective on Sociology and Feminism by Lee Maracle
- Karl Marx’s Ecosocialism: Capital, Nature, and the Unfinished Critique of Political Economy by Kōhei Saitō
- Knife: Meditations After an Attempted Murder by Salman Rushdie
- Lessons in Legitimacy: Colonialism, Capitalism, and the Rise of State Schooling in British Columbia by Sean Carleton
• Limbo: Blue-Collar Roots, White-Collar Dreams by Alfred Lubrano
• Made to Stick: Why Some Ideas Survive and Others Die by Chip Heath & Dan Heath
• Madhouse at the End of the Earth: The Belgica’s Journey into the Dark Antarctic Night by Julian Sancton
• Marx in the Anthropocene: Towards the Idea of Degrowth Communism by Kōhei Saitō
• Mass Supervision: Probation, Parole, and the Illusion of Safety and Freedom by Vincent Schiraldi
• Media Law Through Science Fiction: Do Androids Dream of Electric Free Speech by Daxton R. Stewart
• Muilwanej kikamaqki "Honouring Our Ancestors": Mi’kmaq Who Left a Mark on the History of the Northeast, 1680 to 1980 edited by Janet E. Chute
• Nothing But the Truth: The Memoir of an Unlikely Lawyer by The Secret Barrister
• Nuclear War: A Scenario by Annie Jacobsen
• On Combatting Antisemitism Today by Theodor W. Adorno
• One Way Back: A Memoir by Christine Blasey Ford
• Out of Darkness: Rumana Monzur’s Journey Through Betrayal, Tyranny and Abuse by Denise Chong
• Prison of Grass: Canada from a Native Point of View by Howard Adams
• Proportionality in Law An Analytical Perspective edited by David Duarte and Jorge Silva Sampaio
• Pirate Enlightenment, or the Real Libertalia by David Graeber
• Road to Surrender: Three Men and the Countdown to the End of World War II by Evan Thomas
• Slow Down: The Degrowth Manifesto by Kōhei Saitō
• Suing for Silence: Sexual Violence and Defamation Law by Mandi Gray
• The Cathedral & the Bazaar by Eric S. Raymond 86.
• The Constitution of the Environmental Emergency by Jocelyn Stacey
• The Cybernetic Imagination in Science Fiction by Patricia S. Warrick
• The Great White Bard: How to Love Shakespeare While Talking About Race by Farah Karim-Cooper
• The Honourable John Norquay: Indigenous Premier, Canadian Statesman by Gerald Friesen
• The Hundred Years' War on Palestine: A History of Settler Colonialism and Resistance, 1917–2017 by Rashid Khalidi
• The Legacy of Louis Riel: Leader of the Métis People by John Andrew Morrow
• The Library Book by Susan Orlean
• The Riel Problem: Canada, the Métis, and a Resistant Hero by Albert Braz
• The Slow Rush of Colonization: Spaces of Power in the Maritime Peninsula, 1680–1790 by Thomas Peace
• The Story of Russia by Orlando Figes
• The Virus Touch: Theorizing Epidemic Media by Bishnupriya Ghosh
• The War in Ukraine and International Law edited by Masahiko Asada and Dai Tamada
• To Speak for the Trees: My Life’s Journey from Ancient Celtic Wisdom to a Healing Vision of the Forest by Diana Beresford-Kroeger
• Unequal Profession: Race and Gender in Legal Academia by Meera E. Deo
• Valley of the Birdtail: An Indian Reserve, A White Town, and the Road to Reconciliation by Andrew Stobo Sniderman and Douglas Sanderson
Why did you choose them? Comments from some of our contributors:

1. After Evil: A Politics of Human Rights by Robert Meister: The reason I want to read this book is I am interested in theories of justice that link individual memory with collective decision-making processes. I have critiques of transitional justice for sacrificing accountability for states of peace - yet, failing to complete ‘justice’ as it regards the subjective link to history, law, and politics. In that regard, I am closer to justice-definitions that engage memory as ontologically agentic, and much like in reparative history, seek to correct, repair, change, and redistribute advantages and disadvantages that are built upon historic harm. In particular, I am looking to ‘design justice’ in the person (or peoples) centered justice tradition as a ‘micro’ that is operatively subjectively, yet, engages ‘suffering’ with ‘politics’ meaningfully. I hope to expand my theoretical understanding of justice (and critiques of transitional justice) through this book, and through exercises of political imagination, conceive of practical design that brings ‘peace’ not at the expense of ‘accountability’ and makes explicit the link between ‘memory’ and ‘law.’

2. Cutting for Stone by Abraham Verghese: A few people who learned of my Ethiopian background suggested I read it.

3. HATIMA, directed by Victor Olukoju: My beloved bother participated in this movie. It’s dedicated to him. I’ll watch it in his memory.

4. Greenwich Killing Time by Kinky Friedman: This polymath artist just passed away, and to honor his memory I will put on my fanboy cowboy hat and re-read his entire crime fiction series, starting with this first one.

5. Bluebird, Bluebird by Attica Locke: One of those rising stars in crime fiction, who are taking the genre to new literary heights, both through their writing and smart social commentary.

6. Sanctuary by Garry Disher: This exceptional author is the patron saint of contemporary Australian crime fiction.

7. Essentials of Classic Italian Cooking by Marcella Hazan: One of the best cookbooks I own -- finally want to give it a more thorough reading).

8. I’m Not Stiller by Max Frisch: Started re-reading this iconic mid-20th century novel by this Swiss author and architect.

9. On Combatting Antisemitism Today by Theodor W. Adorno: An older text by one of the founding fathers of the Frankfurt School of critical theory, that seems to not have lost any of its relevance today.

10. The Loneliest Man I Ever Met by Kinky Friedman: See my book list for why this album is on the list (Note 4, above).

11. Lily Mullen Is Here by Lily Mullen: Debut album by this young artist. “Lily was born with Down Syndrome and is a fierce advocate for disability justice and other underrepresented voices. This album has a playful and magical quality - like found in the self-contained worlds of the Raincoats or the Slits.” (from the label’s description)

12. Introduction to... Escape-Ism by Escap-Ism: This can’t be described. This needs to be listened to.

13. Save Yourself by Make-Up: From the late 1990s. If Prince had been punk, he might have sounded like this...
“Whatever It Is, I’m Against It”: Resistance to Change in Higher Education by Brian Rosenberg: A book to help me think about higher education.

Coming Home by Brittney Griner and Michelle Burford: A book to satisfy the sports memoir lover in me.

Music League: This is not a specific music recommendation, but rather a free app/game that a friend just introduced me to. Each ‘league’ contains a number of rounds where a group of friends (or you can join leagues with the broader community) submits songs based on fun themes like ‘A song that you genuinely love, but embarrasses you a bit’ and ‘The one song you’d take with you to a desert island.’ Once all league players submit their choices, it generates a Spotify playlist and players upvote the best songs. Only then can you see what people submitted. At the end of all the rounds, the person whose songs received the most votes over the course of the whole league, wins. It’s a fun and unique way to share music and create playlists among friends. There’s a chat function too. You don’t need to have Spotify Premium to participate, free accounts work just fine.

The Last Unicorn by Peter S. Beagle: After having a baby and navigating my return to work I’ve been looking for lighter reads, and have gravitated more toward fantasy than I have in the past. I received a recommendation for this classic story which was published in 1968. It is the story of a unicorn who overhears there are no longer any living unicorns, and follows her quest to find her kind. This is a different sort of fantasy story than one might expect and I think readers will find it comforting, humorous and appealing to all ages.

A Thousand Ships by Natalie Haynes: This is a book that I’ve been reading when I go to the beach. Natalie Haynes is an excellent author at retelling Greek mythology from a feminist perspective. The book is so engaging from page one, when the muse of epic poetry mocks Homer with sentences like: “Sing, Muse, he says, and the edge of his voice makes it clear that this is not a request...” or “… I am not in the mood to be a muse today. Perhaps he hasn’t thought of what it is like to be me. Certainly he hasn’t: like all poets, he thinks only of himself...” and “How much epic poetry does the world really need?” This is a piece of travel literature that I’ll definitely finish it this summer!

Crushed Wild Mint by Jess Háuslí: I admire the work of the author of this book and attended the book launch at the First Peoples House. To be honest, I went to the book launch because Jess Háuslí is a terrific public speaker. I haven’t read poetry for quite some time; however, Jess Háuslí’s use of language and metaphors convinced me that this book is the best way to start reading poetry again – there are beautiful references to mountains (which I loved because I’m from the mountains!).

Hiroshima Notes by Kenzaburo Oe: I found this book on my favourite floor of McPherson, hidden within a shelf that is full of dust. I’ve been reading a few books by Oe this year, and I was deeply moved when I learned that he went to Hiroshima to interview several survivors of the atomic attack as well as doctors and nurses to write this great book – that could count as a piece of travel literature too. After I opened the book, I found a quote from Sebastian Catello, a historical figure who is the main character of one of the books that I recommended last year. There were so many coincidences: the genre, topic, and the fortunate surprise! I’m glad I chose it, and I’m convinced that this book is a must read nowadays.

Road to Surrender: Three Men and the Countdown to the End of World War II by Evan Thomas: After I began Hiroshima Notes and listened to an NPR talk, I decided that I’ll start reading this book this summer. The NPR journalist conducting the interview and the author convinced me that it’ll be a good experience. The book is so well documented and gets into many thorny details about politics and people involved in the decision-making process that led to the atomic attacks in Japan.

Cunk on…: A dear friend introduced me to this show because she thinks that Philomena and I have something in common (aside from our friends named Paul): we love to ask and share “tricky” questions and comments with people, especially scholars. One of my favourite Cunk questions is: “Jesus was killed because people didn’t like what he was saying. So, could you call him the first celebrity victim of cancel culture?”. Yet, one of her comments that I love the most is: “You might think these [the enslaved people from Africa] were precisely the people Rosseau had been talking about when he said that mankind needed to throw off its chains, but they weren’t. Like many humanists, he’d found a clever loophole. By not thinking of slaves as human, he was free to not give a shit.”

“Switched-On Bach” by Wendy Carlos: I’m very happy that our libraries have this album. I first listened to it in my country. It accompanied me during one of my university years, when I suffered from daily migraines. I was a big fan of a very alternative classical music radio show (yes, I said radio! It is great). Thanks to that show, I learned all what I know about classical music. This album by the great Wendy Carlos is a jewel and a great accomplishment. I’m glad that UVic Libraries has this album; I’ll listen to it again (and I’m also glad that I don’t deal with migraine anymore).
24 Madhouse at the End of the Earth: The Belgica’s Journey into the Dark Antarctic Night by Julian Sancton: I’ll read this book because my book club as picked it for our July theme: “story about survival.”

25 Animal Farm by George Orwell (Eric Arthur Blais): Before reading the book, read about Eric Arthur Blais’ experience in the Spanish Civil War and his experience with the Stalinists to understand what likely motivated his thinking on totalitarianism. I think Animal Farm and Nineteen Eighty-Four have insights for several things happening in the world today.

26 Frankenstein or The Modern Prometheus by Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley: This is a sort of early science fiction that has a farfetched story, but it is really well written, and I think that, despite its 1818 publication date, continues to have many insights for the modern context.

27 Nothing But the Truth: The Memoir of an Unlikely Lawyer by The Secret Barrister: This person has written several books under the penname “Secret Barrister”. I received the book from my daughter as a gift. It was an interesting read. It was slow to get going, starting with the Secret Barrister entering law school after high school and on to becoming a barrister. In a way, it is a collection of anecdotes over this period and ten years of experience as a barrister in England and Wales specializing in criminal law. That, frankly, would make it a light, but largely uninteresting read, except that it bit-by-bit articulates concerns with the criminal justice system and society in general that lead to the many sad stories encountered in the Secret Barrister’s criminal law litigation practice. As I read through the book, it became more and more engaging and thought provoking. I highly recommend it.

28 The Story of Russia by Orlando Figes: I picked this book up for my son and myself with a view to getting a better understanding of what might be the Russian perspective on the Russia-Ukraine war. I read about one hundred pages of it before giving it to my son. He said it was actually a very good read. One of our current law students also said it was an excellent book. I plan this summer to complete my reading of the book, starting from the beginning again.

29 Going Infinite: The Rise and Fall of a New Tycoon by Michael Lewis: This book is another book I bought as a gift for my son. I read it in its entirety before giving it to him. It is more closely related to one of my main research areas, securities regulation. It is a story about someone who rose and crashed in a very short period of time, and it provides a number of insights into what, shockingly, goes on in securities markets (as several of Michael Lewis’ books do) with this book dealing with exchanges for cryptocurrencies. I have read several Michael Lewis books, and I introduced my son to some of those books. He bought me two Michael Lewis books of relatively recent vintage that are also excellent reads. One was The Undoing Project: A Friendship That Changed Our Minds (2017) that relates to other research I have looked at on cognitive biases – for me, it was a fascinating book. The other was The Fifth Risk: Undoing Democracy (2019) that deals with the Trump presidency. Although I think that although the writing was not as good as in other Michael Lewis books, it was a very interesting, and scary read, that might be even more scary with the prospect that Trump may, once again, end up in the Oval Office!

30 Pirate Enlightenment, or the Real Libertalia by David Graeber: This summer, I’ll be working with this book. I think it’s worth a read in general by out-of-the-box-thinking lawyers.

31 Against the Loveless World by Susan Abulhawa: The protagonist is a young Palestinian woman whose compelling story provides a personal perspective on the complex tapestry of Middle Eastern history and culture. It explores themes of love, resistance, and the human spirit in the face of adversity.

32 Why Fish Don’t Exist by Lulu Miller: It is an engaging work of nonfiction written by Lulu Miller, who is also an accomplished science reporter for NPR, that intertwines biography, science, and personal memoir to reveal the unexpected order within chaos. It’s a must-read for those who appreciate stories that transform our understanding of history, morality, and nature.

33 Seagrass by Meredith Hama-Brown: It is a 2023 film that delves into the emotional journey of a Japanese-Canadian woman set during the 1990’s at coastal retreat centre in British Columbia. It’s a poignant exploration of racism, cultural heritage, and the quest for understanding within a family dynamic.

34 Unequal Profession: Race and Gender in Legal Academia by Meera E. Deo: I am interested in the Unequal Profession not only because of my research interest in diversity and inclusion within the legal field but also because of my personal interest in learning about the experiences of women of color in the legal academia.

35 Out of Darkness: Rumana Monzur’s Journey Through Betrayal, Tyranny and Abuse by Denise Chong: I was fortunate to have the chance to attend a Dentons Fireside Chat with Denis Chong and Rumana Monzur in Calgary, and it was full of resilience and empowerment! Rumana lost her sight as a result of domestic violence, and she graduated from UBC in 2017 with a law degree. She is now a counsel at the Department of Justice Canada in Vancouver.

36 The Ministry for the Future by Kim Stanley Robinson: The novel follows a U.N.-sanctioned body as it works to solve the climate crisis in the very near future, although the story often features the voices of those most affected by the climate catastrophe. I have seen a lot of discussion of this book online, and have heard that it is an ultimately optimistic portrayal of an international effort to curb the worst effects of the climate crisis. I could use a bit of optimism 😊

37 Circe by Madeline Miller: One title I’ve started reading while at the beach this summer is Circe by Madeline Miller. It’s an adaptation of the Odyssey and other various Greek myths but told from the perspective of the witch Circe. It treats the character with depth and is so far a very entertaining and accessible entry point to Greek mythology.

38 Suing for Silence: Sexual Violence and Defamation Law by Mandi Gray: The book is about intimidation lawsuits that are used to silence women who report sexual violence. My interest is because something very similar happens with protective mothers who report sexual abuse against their children or domestic violence. In many countries (including Canada) these women are silenced through “parental alienation”.

39 Valley of the Birdtail: An Indian Reserve, A White Town, and the Road to Reconciliation by Andrew Stobo Sniderman and Douglas Sanderson: Every Canadian should read this!

40 Fantasy: How It Works by Brian Attebery: “Fantasy is the lie that speaks truth.” As a genre that dominates the world story-telling market, I am especially interested in how fantasy stories were embraced by young adults and how they were used to test/rethink social practices and models of reality.

41 Zao Wou-Ki: No Limits by Michelle Yun: This artist perfectly blended abstract style with Chinese calligraphy and ink painting.

42 Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress by Dai Sijie: I am working on a relevant project related to this movie. It is not a traditional love story but a story of awakenings. The movie is based on a novel, which is also available at our library: https://search.library.uvic.ca/permalink/01VIC_INST/12198k2/alma9941547703807291