Celebrating UVIC Authors

Books are the foundation, the cement, of the academic enterprise and have been for centuries. In the rapidly shifting landscape of 21st century higher education and publishing the monograph, be it digital or print, remains an essential component for the transmission of research and critical and creative thinking.

_Celebrating UVIC Authors_ is an opportunity to recognize the intellectual products of our University community, including faculty, staff and alumni. As befits one of the world’s leading research universities, this year’s body of work is wonderfully diverse and of exceptional quality.

UVIC Libraries is a proud co-sponsor with the campus Bookstore of this annual event. We are dedicated to highlighting, promoting, disseminating and celebrating our authors and their research. It is a privilege to do so and a duty that guides us in our mission to support the University’s academic excellence and innovation.

Jonathan B. Bengtson
University Librarian