Remember Orange Shirt Day- September 30th: <http://irsss.ca/orange-shirt-day-september-30th-2015/>

Orange Shirt Day is a legacy of the St. Joseph Mission (SJM) residential school commemoration event held in Williams Lake, BC, Canada, in the spring of 2013. It grew out of Phyllis's account of having her shiny new orange shirt taken away on her first day of school at the Mission, and it has become an opportunity to keep the discussion on all aspects of residential schools happening annually. The date was chosen because it is the time of year in which children were taken from their homes to residential schools, and because it is an opportunity to set the stage for anti-racism and anti-bullying policies for the coming school year. Orange Shirt Day is also an opportunity for First Nations, local governments, schools and communities to come together in the spirit of reconciliation and hope for generations of children to come.

A note about Indigenous Education from Métis educator, Fern Perkins

Indigenous education is for everyone, especially the non-Indigenous. It is the first step to becoming an Indigenous ally. The first step in Indigenous education is to acknowledge that non-Indigenous settlers journeyed to Turtle Island (North America) to occupy the First Peoples' land and harvest their resources, beginning a few hundred years ago. Through this knowledge, the learners' humanity and conscience lead them to want to learn more truth.

Learning is evident when the worldview and personal perspective are transformed from Euro-centric to that of an Indigenous ally. An ally respects First Peoples' history, wisdom, and the need for healing and reconciliation to begin for both Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples. Are we growing as persons, becoming healthier, wiser, more likely to become allies of the First Peoples and rebuild Canada on an honest foundation of equal nations? Do we recognize the dominant and systemic privilege of Canadian society that was established by racism, ongoing educational and government policy? Can we see if society is beginning to offer the same benefits to the First Peoples that Canadians are privileged with, or at least, not further deprive the First Peoples from the same benefits that Canadians enjoy?
