

Let's talk about sex.

Did you know?

- 1 in 2 sexually active people will contract an STI by the age of 25.
- Many STIs do not have obvious symptoms.
- Many women are opting for less effective birth control. What options are available? What type of contraception is right for you?
- Men are now able to get the HPV vaccine.

Join second-year UBC Island Medical Program students Amy Kim, Laila Drabkin, Kaity Lalonde, and Brianna Crighton in an open conversation.

We'll discuss different STIs and how to protect yourself, contraceptive methods, and more. Let's talk about sex!
