JOB TITLE: HIST 2 - Landscapes of Injustice Project Research Assistant

DEPARTMENT NAME: History

CONTACT NAME: Michael Abe & Jordan Stanger-Ross

JOB DESCRIPTION:
The Project Research Assistant will assist the Landscapes of Injustice Project Manager, Mike Abe, in the research activities of the central office Landscapes of Injustice, a large, multi-institutional grant-funded research project. Specific responsibilities include: supporting the production of profiles of researchers and other public research dissemination; planning and implementing outreach programs; assisting with preparations for the Spring Institute (April 2019); maintaining and monitoring social media; and editing and assisting in production of project research newsletter.

Landscapes of Injustice is a 7-year multi-sector and interdisciplinary project to uncover and tell the history of the dispossession of Japanese Canadians to audiences across Canada and beyond. The project will result in a traveling museum exhibit, teaching materials for elementary and secondary school classes, educational websites, scholarly and popular publications, and public presentations across the country. Learn more about the project here: www.landscapesofinjustice.com

QUALIFICATIONS:
The successful applicant should have strong organizational and computer skills and a record of academic achievement. Skills in InDesign or Photoshop an asset. Interest in and knowledge of the Japanese Canadian internment is a plus.
