

A CAPI evening with internationally acclaimed author

Amitav Ghosh

Havildar Kesri Singh was the kind the lead, particularly on days like was marching through a territory that had and the advance-guard's job was only to fly put on their best parade-faces for the benefit had gathered by the roadside.

The villagers who lined the way didn't need to look into their eyes at him in wide-eyed unusual sight in
of the Bengal
'Pacheesi'
a tamasha
decade

3

University of Victoria Centre for Asia-Pacific Initiatives

0

1988 | thirty years of bridging the pacific | 2018

University of Victoria

RECEIVED Centre for Asia-Pacific Initiatives (CAPI)
Application for Recognition as an Approved Centre FEB 13 1989

Under the Senate guidelines adopted on 21st April 1988, the recently opened Centre for Asia-Pacific Initiatives (CAPI) wishes to be recognized as an Approved Centre. This document provides information relevant to the approval process.

Preamble

2. The Centre's offices, located on the ground floor of the Begbie Building, were opened at a formal University ceremony held on 15th April 1988. The opening was preceded by a preliminary period of organization, which began on 1st July 1987 with the appointment of Professor Ralph Huenemann to the chair of Economic Relations with China and of Professor Douglas M. Johnston to the chair of Asia-Pacific Legal Relations. On 1st July 1988 they were joined by Professor Carl Mosk, holder of the chair in Economic Relations with Japan. Together these three specialists in Asia-Pacific relations will be chiefly responsible for the establishment and administration of CAPI projects and for the development of other initiatives by the Centre. Since 1st July 1987 Professor Huenemann has served as Director of CAPI, and in January 1988 the Centre began the recruitment of staff with appropriate skills and experience.

Statement of Objectives

- 3. The establishment of CAPI is an important part of the University's effort to expand and strengthen its links with universities and other institutions in the Asia-Pacific region, especially with China, Japan, the ASEAN countries of Southeast Asia, and the developing island states of the Southwest Pacific. It is intended that CAPI will enhance the university's growing reputation in these and other areas of the Asia-Pacific region. In the years to come CAPI will be available to all members of the University community, and of the larger community as well, with professional or business interests in these countries. In the various ways outlined below, the Centre will, above all, serve to facilitate participation in the study and treatment of current policy problems in the Asia-Pacific region as a whole, and especially in the countries designated above.
- 4. CAPI is designed to fulfil six primary functions consistent with the general purposes described above:
  - i) To serve as a clearing house for the collection and dissemination of information regarding forthcoming activities on campus, and in the community;
  - ii) To provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and information among interested persons at the University,

16 Nov 2018

Agenda

- 6h30  reception
- 7h30  dinner
- 8h30  keynote
- 10h00  into the night

 Inn at Laurel Point 680 Montreal Street
V8V 1Z8 Victoria, BC

Particulars

1200$ / table of ten or 125$ / plate

 poisson or  vegetarian

RSVP

 capi@uvic.ca

Queries

 +1.250.721.7021