Landscape Liturgy: Weaving as Land-Based Ritual

5:00-6:00pm

Estraven Lupino-Smith situates weaving as a form of ritual, sharing how weavers relate to their environments as stewards and community knowledge keepers. Come experience fibres, textiles and story in tandem with research.

Nowhere to Now Here

6:30-7:30pm

Patrick Boyle explores the nature of improvisation. How do jazz musicians leverage the unknown into a spiritual practice? Join us as we encounter and reflect on the sonic and the spiritual.

catered refreshments will be served free and open to the public
