

University
of Victoria

Religion at the Edge

Nature, Spirituality, and Secularity in the Pacific Northwest

Religion at the Edge: Nature, Spirituality, and Secularity in the Pacific Northwest Book Launch

Thursday, May 5

12:00-1:30 p.m. PT

David Turpin Building A102

<https://uvic.zoom.us/j/96971529046>

The Cascadia bioregion – British Columbia, Washington, and Oregon – has long been at the forefront of cultural shifts occurring throughout North America, particularly as it pertains to religious institutions, ideas, and practices. At this special book launch for Religion at the Edge: Nature, Spirituality, and Secularity in the Pacific Northwest (UBC, 2022), contributors will present some of the key findings from their research and take your questions.

Paul Bramadat is the director of the Centre for Studies in Religion and Society at UVic. Patricia O’Connell Killen is a professor emerita and faculty fellow at Pacific Lutheran University. Sarah Wilkins-Laflamme is an associate professor in the Department of Sociology and Legal Studies at the University of Waterloo. We will also be joined by other contributors to the volume. Light refreshments will be served.

<https://www.uvic.ca/research/centres/csrs/>