Work Study 2021-22

The work study program is funded by Student Awards and Financial Aid (SAFA) with the objective to provide additional financial assistance through on-campus part-time employment opportunities for students with documented financial need.

Applications for students are available online: if you think you might be eligible, apply as soon as possible

Details of the below ANTH workstudy job postings will be available on the work study website September 8th:

- Research Assistant: Dr. Thom/Dr. Hancock
 - Data collection and preliminary analysis of materials related to the history of the Department of Anthropology at the University of Victoria. You will assist in compiling a chronology of the Department's teaching and research, examples of its contributions to public service, perspectives on the history of relationships with Indigenous communities, and discussions of the intellectual and ideological trends and disputes that shaped it...
- Lab Assistant: Dr. Calce
 - Assist in the preparation, maintenance, and documentation of the ANTH240, ANTH250, and upper-level archaeology and biological anthropology teaching collections.
- Archaeological Field School Laboratory Assistant: Dr. McKechnie
 - Catalogue, process, and identify archaeological samples (artifacts, invertebrate fauna, sediment samples), compile and digitize field drawings, and measure specific skeletal elements to support archaeological research conducted during the archaeological field school in Barkley Sound.
