By signing below, you affirm that:

- I hereby agree that the above information is accurate.
- I understand that I must enroll in both Anthropology 381 and 283 to obtain three full academic credits, and that as a course requirement I must participate in four days of workshops prior to the departure to the field school, and 21 days of field trip based in Cuba.
- I understand that there will be a fee of CAD $2,800.00 per student, which will pay for food, local transportation and other costs of running this field school program. Refunds will only occur if this field school is cancelled. This fee is in addition to the tuition for Anthropology 381 and 382. The fee does not include international flight tickets and private health insurance (mandatory).
- I understand that the time commitment to this field school is April 15-16 and 22-23, 2023 at UVIC, Victoria BC (arrangements are possible for students not studying at UVic) and July 9 to July 30, 2023 in Cuba. Assignments are due before the end of the fieldschool.
- I understand that the field school will involve staying with Cuban host families in Santiago de Cuba and Baracoa and that I will share a room with another student. I might not have access to a landline and/or cellphone and Internet connection during this time. Host families might not speak English.
- I realize that I will be living and collaborating with fellow students and other members of the field crew. I agree to respect the codes, laws and regulations of the host country. I realize that the field school experience will expose me to remoteness, different cultural perceptions in terms of gender, possible extreme heat and insects and other wildlife.
- I understand that food selection will be limited to that which can be prepared in a host family setting. Vegetarian and vegan meals might not always be available.
- I also understand that for my own safety I will be asked to provide information about my medical status and that this information will be kept strictly confidential.
- I understand that if I am selected, I will have to pay half of the total price of the field school ($1400) by December 19, 2022. Full payment is due on February 17, 2023. My payments are refundable only if the field school is cancelled. Payments may be made with a personal cheque or a money order in Canadian funds.

GENERAL CONSENT/PERMISSION

I _____ (name of participant) understand that the Cuba Ethnographic Field School (Anthropology 381 & 382) program offered by the Department of Anthropology at the University of Victoria may expose participants to elements of risk. I also acknowledge that accidents may occur while participating in the program and can be a result of the nature of the activity and can occur without fault on either the part of the participant or the University of Victoria. I am aware that the Department will take necessary and appropriate safety precautions and will attempt to minimize any associated risks. Accidents, however, may cause loss of personal property, injury or even death. As a registered participant, I accept the risk of an accident occurring.

Examples of the types of hazards to which you may be exposed while participating include, but are not limited to:

- TERRAIN: any manner of injury resulting from falls on or from steep, slippery, or uneven terrain. Injury or death may be caused by, but is not limited to making contact with rocks, trees, ocean, obstructions and other participants, visible or non-visible.
- WEATHER: injury or illness resulting from wet weather or the effects of heat and strong sunlight, or winds.
- WILD ANIMALS: injury resulting from interaction with passive or aggressive wildlife: rodents, wood ticks, birds, snakes, insects. Giardia parasite, or other wild or domestic animals.
- REMOTENESS: the potential of any injury being exacerbated by the inability to access prompt medical help.
- HAZARDS OF TRAVEL: injury resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle on a paved or unpaved roadway, or injury resulting from the operation of a boat or vessel during water travel.
- OTHER HAZARDS: injury due to rockfall, flood, immersion in cold water causing hypothermia, shock or drowning, deadfall, noxious vegetation, flying rock chips, or theft of property.
