Course Content

Calendar Entry & Pre-requisites:

Selected topics involving the application of macroeconomic analysis to Canadian problems and policies in the areas of unemployment, inflation and economic growth.
Pre-requisites: ECON 204 & ECON 225 or equivalent.

Course Description:

This is a course on macroeconomic policy from a Canadian perspective, which means both a focus on policy making within Canada as well as the global economic environment and related policy issues. The course material assumes a good understanding of intermediate macroeconomics, calculus, and statistics commensurate with upper year standing. The focus on macroeconomic policy requires some emphasis on the institutional environment and some emphasis on macroeconomic theory, both of which form the basis for policy analysis. My hope for the course is to balance these objectives so that you will have a good understanding of macroeconomic policy analysis and its role in practice.

Textbook

There is no required textbook for this course. Material for the course will draw on a number of macroeconomics texts, articles, and public policy documents. The readings will be identified as we proceed and will be available through 410B Brightspace.

Course Format

The course consists of two 75 minute lectures per week. Readings will be identified before the lectures and must be reviewed prior to the lectures. Some part of the second lecture of each week will be set aside for quizzes and for general discussion.

University of Victoria Territory Acknowledgement

We acknowledge and respect the lək̓ʷəŋən peoples on whose traditional territory the university stands and the Songhees, Esquimalt and WSÁNEĆ peoples whose historical relationships with the land continue to this day.

Grading

The final grade for the course is determined as follows:

- In-class quizzes: 30%
- Policy Brief 1; due 6:00 pm 26 October: 35%
- Policy Brief 2; due 6:00 pm 4 December: 35%

There will be six in-class quizzes during the term. The overall grade for the quizzes will be the (equally-weighted) average of your five best quiz grades. The schedule for the quizzes will be posted on Brightspace.

The two policy briefs are between 1500–2500 words and will be assessed on writing quality as well as content. The topics and expected format will be provided in the first week of term.

The grading scale for the course follows the university’s grading system from the Grading section of the Undergraduate Academic Regulations in the University Calendar. Students should review this as well as the other academic regulations.

N Grades

The two policy briefs are required components of the course; failure to submit each policy brief will result in an N grade.

The in-class quizzes are a required component of the course; at least five quizzes must be completed otherwise an N grade will be awarded. The schedule for the quizzes will be posted on 410B Brightspace.

The final exam is a required component of the course; failure to sit the final exam will result in an N grade.

In the event of concerns about plagiarism or cheating, I reserve the right to examine students in person concerning their understanding of their submitted work. See also the remarks below on plagiarism and cheating.

University and Course Policies

Students should be familiar with the Undergraduate Academic Regulations for the University. See also the the Undergraduate Course Policies of the Department of Economics.

The following policies are explicitly included because of their importance.

Waitlists

You must review the department policies on waitlists available on the link above.

Students who are still waitlisted in a course after the course-add deadline should stop attending/completing coursework. Students are responsible for being aware of this deadline and will not be eligible for credit in the course despite continuing to complete coursework.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity requires commitment to the values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. Students are expected to observe the same standards of scholarly integrity as their academic and professional counterparts. A student who is found to have engaged in unethical academic behaviour, including the practices described in the Academic Integrity section of the Undergraduate Academic Regulations in the University Calendar, is subject to penalty by the University.

Student Code of Conduct

The Humanities, Science, and Social Sciences faculties have adopted this student code of conduct, which should be reviewed.

University Policy on Human Rights, Equity and Fairness

The University is committed to promoting, providing and protecting a positive, supportive and safe learning and working environment for all its members. See General University Policies.

Accessibility and Health Resources

- Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) – Students with diverse learning styles and needs are welcome in this course. In particular, if you have a disability/health consideration that may require accommodations, you are free to approach me; however, you must register with the Centre for Accessible Learning formal arrangements to be made. The CAL staff are available by appointment to assess specific needs, provide referrals and arrange appropriate accommodations. The sooner you let us know your needs the quicker we can assist you in achieving your learning goals in this course.

- Health and Counselling Services – University Health Services (UHS) provides a full service primary health clinic to support students’ mental, physical and spiritual health.

- Support Connect – a 24/7 mental health support service for students.

- Elders’ Voices – The Office of Indigenous Academic and Community Engagement (IACE) has the privilege of assembling a group of Elders from local communities to guide students, staff, faculty and administration in Indigenous ways of knowing and being.

Sexualized Violence Prevention and Response

Students are encouraged to learn more about how the university defines sexualized violence and its overall approach by visiting Sexualized Violence. If you or someone you know has been impacted by sexualized violence and needs information, advice, and/or support please contact the sexualized violence resource office in Equity and Human Rights (EQHR). Contact svpcoordinator@uvic.ca.

Course Experience Survey (CES)

Towards the end of term you will have the opportunity to complete a confidential course experience survey (CES) regarding your learning experience. The survey is an important means of providing me feedback about the course and my teaching, as well as to help the department improve the overall programme for students in the future.

When it is time for you to complete the survey, you will receive an email inviting you to do so. If you do not receive an email invitation, you can go directly to the CES dashboard. You will need to use your UVic NetLink ID to access the survey, which can be done on your laptop, tablet or mobile device. I will remind you nearer the time but please keep all this in mind, especially the following three questions, during the course.

- What strengths did your instructor demonstrate that helped you learn in this course?
- Please provide specific suggestions as to how the instructor could have helped you learn more effectively.
- Please provide specific suggestions as to how this course could be improved.
