

2019 School of Environmental Studies Summer Field Schools

Take your learning outside of the classroom this summer with one of our experiential field courses!

- ES 473: Practical Permaculture Applications May 13-22 Linnea Farm, Cortes Island
Learn skills and techniques to apply permaculture principles while living and working on a functioning permaculture farm. <https://uvicpermaculture.wordpress.com>
 Prerequisite: ES 433 Field Course Fee $650* Apply to: Hannah Roessler hroessler@uvic.ca by Feb 1
- ES 481: Field Methods in Ethnoecology May 21-June 1 Tl'chés & Victoria
Learn skills and field methods in this collaborative field school with the Songhees Nation at Tl'ches (Chatham Island). Contribute to ongoing research and policy, and participate in pit cook and Songhees community event.
 Prerequisite: ES 321 Field Course Fee $1000* Applyto: Dr. Darcy Mathews dmathews@uvic.ca by Feb 1
- ES 429: Urban Ethnoecology May 13-June 10 In & around Victoria
Use an ethnoecological lens to explore intersections between people and place in urban environments. Visit and work with urban agriculture, urban foraging, urban forests and green spaces in Victoria.
 Prerequisite: ES 321 Field Course Fee $110* No application- register during summer term registration.
 Direct questions to Dr. Trevor Lantz tlantz@uvic.ca
- ES 471/ER 412: Galiano Field Study June 22- July 1 Galiano Island
Explore regenerative and restorative designs for ecological and social resilience on Galiano Island at the Galiano Learning Centre in partnership with the Galiano Conservancy Association. <https://es441.weebly.com/>
 Prerequisite: ES 341 Field Course Fee $750*. Apply to: Dr. Eric Higgs ehiggs@uvic.ca by February 1
- ES 370 & 380: Redfish School of Change July 3—July 23 S. Gulf Islands & San Juan Islands
Travel with an international cohort of students on both sides of the border in the Salish Sea, exploring ways to lead meaningful social and environmental change. Develop and implement a Community Action Project.
 Prerequisite: ES 200 Field Course Fee $2750* Apply at: www.schoolofchange.ca by February 1
 Direct questions to Ryan Hilperts ryzome@uvic.ca
- ES 403: Environmental Law and Sustainability Aug 18–30 Bamfield Marine Sciences Centre
Explore the structures of policy and law that shape environmental governance on the west coast of Vancouver Island, and how the Indigenous communities and ecosystems of the west coast of Vancouver Island shape law and policy. Work in collaboration with Nuu-Chah-Nulth Nations to support their environmental priorities.
 Prerequisite: ES 301 Field Course Fee $1000* Apply at: www.bamfieldmsc.com by March 1
 Direct questions to Deb Curran dlc@uvic.ca

 Lorene Kennedy Field Course Awards are available to partly offset additional costs for full-time or part-time Environmental Studies undergraduate declared majors, minors, graduate students, and students in the RNS Diploma Program. Field course fees must be paid in full, and a percentage will be reimbursed in the semester following successful completion of the course.

*Application Instructions for ES 473, 481, and 471: Please email one PDF file that contains: 1) a one-page cover letter outlining your interest in the course, your preparation for it, and how it supports your academic and professional plans, 2) a CV and 3) Unofficial Transcripts. Name the file as follows: Last Name, Course Number, Application. (e.g. Smith ES 433 Application.pdf)