

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY
POSTING FOR CUPE 4163 SPECIALIST INSTRUCTIONAL

Course Number/Title/Description: GEOG 103: INTRODUCTION TO PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY - Introduces the science of Physical Geography using an earth-systems approach. Course themes include global climates and climate change, hydrology and water resources, geomorphology and natural hazards, and biogeography; with focus on how geographic sciences are applied to address real world issues.

Fall Session¹: September 9 to December 23, 2026

Number of Available Labs²: 3

Hourly Rate³: $34.72

Number of Hours per Lab Appointment: 98

Weekly Hours per Appointment⁴: 7 hours per week (approximate)

Minimum Skills Required: Good communication skills and an understanding of the basic principles associated with Physical Geography. Good command of spoken and written English. Must have up-to-date emergency first-aid training.

Duties and Responsibilities⁵:

- participating in weekly meetings or workshops
- preparing for weekly labs
- leading weekly labs, seminars, tutorials, or field trips
- providing in-lab instruction and/or assistance
- student consultation (office hours)
- grading of weekly lab assignments and/or term papers/reports
- supervising and grading of midterm(s) and final exam

Submit a completed application form by Friday, June 12th, 2026

Application forms are available through the departmental website at <https://www.uvic.ca/socialsciences/geography/coop/Current-Opportunities/Sl/index.php>. Completed forms may be mailed to the department c/o John Fowler, Administrative Officer OR e-mailed to John at geogao@uvic.ca OR faxed to (250) 721-6216.

¹ You are expected to be available during this time period to fulfill all your duties and responsibilities.

² The number of positions available is subject to the terms of individual Graduate Student "Offers of Funding", available funding, and/or course cancellation.

³ Effective September 1, 2022 (see the latest CUPE 4163 Collective Agreement).

⁴ Weekly hours vary based upon the marking requirements of individual courses, especially mid-term and final exams, and term projects/reports.

⁵ The position duties and responsibilities may include, but are not limited to, those listed above.

The University of Victoria is an equity employer and encourages applications from women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, aboriginal persons, people of all sexual orientations and genders, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university [Article 13.01(h) of the CUPE 4163 Collective Agreement]. In order to work for the Department, you must be either a Canadian citizen, or you must be in the country and attending the University of Victoria under a student visa.