Exuberant natural and cultural landscapes, extremes in wealth distribution, social movements, grassroots innovations, colonial legacy and land of carnival.
COURSE OVERVIEW

Brazil’s physical and human Geography are shaped by indigenous and colonial past, ecological diversity, socio-cultural wealth and political complexity. Natural environments such as the Amazon region, the Pantanal ecosystem, coastal mountain rainforests and dry savannah regions are among the richest ecosystems on the planet. However, resource extraction, agroindustry, mis-management and urban growth and spread are common threats to these environments and their inhabitants. Historical phases of conquest and slavery during the 19th Century, the move towards abolition and subsequent massive European and Asian migration have re-shaped the natural landscapes and the multicultural populations living in Brazil today.

A wealth of indigenous cultures, still present, particularly in the North of Brazil, of which some are seriously threatened by current developments and policies. The country’s history is marked by oppression, instability and poverty; as well as by resistance, creativity and social movements. We will use a feminist, post-colonial lens to uncover the unique regional geography of this country.

The course will unfold the beauty of the country’s natural environments, uncover the legacy of colonial pasts and the post-colonial present, and will discuss current urban growth, social movements and alternative development manifest in everyday life. We will unravel the roots of social and economic inequality and political challenges linked to corruption and neoliberal ruling. Learning outcomes from this region can be applied to other regional geographies, particular within Latin America.

The course will be tough with asynchronous activities to be completed on Mondays and synchronous lectures with student engagement activities on Thursdays.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

(1) Ability to apply key concepts and theories that explain processes that shape or have shaped the regional geography of Brazil to other contrasting or comparable regional geographic contexts.

(2) Expanded knowledge on social, cultural, economic, political and environmental specific characteristics in the region and on the Latin American continent.

(3) Enhanced critical thinking skills to address regional issues.

(4) Experience with examining and interpreting a broad range of current development issues through geographical regional lenses and analytical frameworks.

(5) Enhanced skills in report preparation and writing.

(6) Critical thinking and enhanced debating and presentation skills.

MARK ALLOCATION AND ASSIGNMENT DETAILS

1. Discussion Forum on Weekly Readings (20%)

As a way of engaging with the course material, students will post one question related to the required weekly readings and post 1 answer to one question from other students, starting in week 2 through to week 12. The questions need to be relevant and focus on the readings of the current week. Your posts should be correct in spelling and grammar. Posting deadline is always the Wednesday at 6PM (PDT). The first Q&A session should be posted in week 2, on Wednesday, January 20th until 6PM, with a focus on the required readings listed for Week 2. In order to receive the full mark (20%) students should participate in 10 posts throughout the course. Each post is worth 2%. You will only be able to see the questions and answers from other students if you submit your own question. Then you can read the posted questions and provide answers to two questions. Postings should not exceed 200 words each. You may include references to websites or academic sources.

2. Discussion leader (10%)

You will be leading the discussion in a breakout room for one of the weekly topics in our Thursday class. This means that you need to be extra well prepared for the week’s topic to be able to facilitate the discussion (max. 30 minutes). You will prepare a minimum of 3 to 5 questions about the weekly topic, and the reading material. You will kickstart the discussion by providing a short introduction about the topic (3 to 5 minutes) and will then lead the discussion with clear questions. The discussion leader needs to upload the questions for the group debate to Brightspace before the Thursday class. This activity will be running between weeks 2 and 12. Students will be enrolled at the beginning of the course.
3. Final exam (20%)
In week 12, on Monday March 29th, you will write an exam based on the course content from weeks 1 to 12. I will provide further information on the preparation for this exam. The best, however, will be if you keep specific notes on essential course content throughout the lectures and readings.

4. Research report (30%)
Students will prepare a research report on a specific topic focused on Brazil. The research can take a comparative lens, considering a regional Geography perspective; e.g. comparing different regions or states within Brazil or comparing Brazil with Canada. In week 5 until February 22nd, students are required to hand in a draft report proposal of 1-2 pages, outlining the topic and research question. The write up should cover: a brief context of the research topic, presenting a rational for why this topic is relevant and describing the specific focus of your report. You will upload your proposal draft to Brightspace and will receive feedback. The final report should have a maximum of 3,000 words. Upload the report to Brightspace. DEADLINE: April 15th.

5. Research Poster (10%)
You will prepare a one-page poster (template will be provided) to communicate your major research findings. DEADLINE to submit your poster is: April 6th. The posters will then be made available to all students. In our Thursday class in week 13 students will be able to comment and engage in debates on the research posters.

6. Attendance and Participation (10%)
Students are expected to attend and actively participate in all online classes. To achieve full participation marks means that the student engages in the discussions during the online classes, and actively listens, poses questions and provides answers or contributions. Regularly attending class and coming prepared and actively participating in class discussions will render the 10% participation mark.

POLICY ON LATE ASSIGNMENTS
We encourage you to stay on schedule as you work through your course material and assignments. To help you satisfy the course requirements, deadlines for each of the course assignments have been established to provide ample work time in which to complete the readings and undertake the activities and discussions. You should review all course requirements and due dates at the beginning of the course, compare these to your own schedule, and plan ahead accordingly. If you anticipate conflicts with your work schedule, please let the course instructor know immediately. You are expected to work through the course materials and submit all assignments on time. All course participants are expected to complete all assignments and are graded on the same criteria.

POLICY ON ATTENDANCE
Our online sessions will start on time. As a sign of respect to the instructor and the rest of the class, late arrivals are discouraged, as are early departures. Students are expected to do the assigned readings to be prepared to participate in the Thursday class discussions.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
It is every student’s responsibility to be aware of the university’s policies on academic integrity, including policies on cheating, plagiarism, unauthorized use of an editor, multiple submission, and aiding others to cheat. Policy on Academic Integrity:

If you have any questions or doubts, talk to me, your course instructor. For more information, see uvic.ca/learningandteaching/cac/index.php.

ACCESSIBILITY
Students with diverse learning styles and needs are welcome in this course. In particular, if you have a documented disability or health consideration that may require accommodations, please feel free to approach me and/or the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) as soon as possible (uvic.ca/services/cal/). The CAL staff is available by appointment to assess specific needs, provide referrals, and arrange appropriate accommodations. The sooner you let us know your needs, the quicker we can assist you in achieving your learning goals in this course.

POSITIVITY AND SAFETY
The University of Victoria is committed to promoting, providing and protecting a positive and safe learning and working environment for all its members.

SEXUALIZED VIOLENCE PREVENTION AND RESPONSE AT UVIC
UVic takes sexualized violence seriously, and has raised the bar for what is considered acceptable behaviour. We encourage students to learn more about how the university defines sexualized violence and its overall approach by visiting uvic.ca/svp. If you or someone you know has been impacted by sexualized violence and needs information, advice, and/or support please contact the sexualized violence resource office in Equity and Human Rights (EQHR). Whether or not you have been directly impacted, if you want to take part in the important prevention work taking place on campus, you can also reach out:

Where: Sexualized violence resource office in EQHR; Sedgewick C119. Phone: 250.721.8021. Email: svpcoordinator@uvic.ca, Web: uvic.ca/svp
COURSE EXPERIENCE SURVEY (CES)

I value your feedback on this course. Towards the end of term, as in all other courses at UVic, you will have the opportunity to complete an anonymous survey regarding your learning experience (CES). The survey is vital to providing feedback to me regarding the course and my teaching, as well as to help the department improve the overall program for students in the future. The survey is accessed via MyPage and can be done on your laptop, tablet, or mobile device. I will remind you and provide you with more detailed information nearer the time but please be thinking about this important activity during the course.

DISCLAIMER

The above schedule, policies, procedures, and assignments in this course are subject to change in the event of extenuating circumstances.

STUDENT WELLNESS

A note to remind you to take care of yourself. Do your best to maintain a healthy lifestyle this semester by eating well, exercising, getting enough sleep and taking some time to relax.
